"ALABAMA JOE" FACES PRISON

12 ARE DEAD AS FLOODS SWEEP THREE STATES

HOMES DAMAGED, BRIDGES WASHED AWAY AND TRAIN WRECKED BY FIERCE STORM

Nine Persons Lose Lives and Thousands of Dollars Worth of Property are Destroyed by 48-hour Rains Which Spend Their Fury in Eastern Pennsylvania.

THREE ARE KNOWN DEAD WHILE SCORES ARE RESCUED IN NEW YORK

Two Vessels, Victims of Gale That Traveled up From, Florida Peninsula, are Believed to Have Sunk Off North Carolina Coast After Crews Abandoned Them.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 1.—Nine persons dead, hundreds of homes damaged, mines filled with water, bridges washed away and thousands of dollars worth of property destroyed was the toll of the fierce wind and rain storm which swept eastern Pennsylvania for 48 hours before spending its final fury last night.

Six of the victims were drowned, one a woman, and three killed. The fireman and brakeman on a freight engine were killed at Girard Manor, near Bloomsburg, when heavy rains loosed a huge pile of earth and rocks on a mountainside, which slid down and partially buried the engine and destroyed the track for hundreds of yards.

The dead railroad men are Edward Keller, brakeman, and W. H. Linn, fireman, both of Catawissa.

Two men were drowned at Mauchchunk when a retaining wall along Mauchchunk Creek gave way. They were Henry Herman, contractor, and Louis Eickhoff, his assistant. William Collins was drowned at Wilkesbarre when his motorcar plunged into a creek at Tunkhannock.

No Flood Danger Here, Altho Ohio River is Rising

Crest in the threatened flood stage of the Ohio river, caused by a 48-hour rain which started Sunday, is expected to reach Dam No. 8, late Wednesday night or early Thursday morning.

With a stage of 22 feet expected at Pittsburgh, engineers at the dam predicted 28 feet in East Liverpool, five feet less than a flood mark. Had the rain continued a few hours longer it is believed that the river would have overflown its banks.

At 9 o'clock Wednesday morning the stage at Dam No. 8 was 23.5 feet and the river was rising at the rate of two inches an hour.

Mining Operations Suspended

Landis Travis was electrocuted at Wyoming, near Wilkesbarre, by a live wire blown down by the storm. Mrs. Agnes Notosh was drowned in a little creek at her home near Miners Mill, while her young son looked on. Two others were drowned near Jermyn, near Scranton, when a bridge gave way.

Mining operations in many parts of Schuylkill Valley and around Mahanoy City will be suspended for several days because of water in the mines.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 1—Three known dead, a train wrecked by a washout, dozens of narrow escapes and heroic rescues, bridges swept away and property damage running well into the hundreds of thousands was the record of loss being compiled here today as a result of drenching rains which swept central, southern and northern New York, since Saturday.

Train Piles Into Ditch.

There was a slight break in the rainfall during the night. Shortly before 7 o'clock this morning, the rain fell again, threatening greater loss.

At Lyons, a power company employe died from burns when a storm-tossed high tension wire nearly electrocuted him.

At Utica, a 10-year-old boy fell into Nail creek and was drowned.

Near Oswego, a woman, leaping from her automobile stalled in a

MAYOR AIDE IN OHIO PARADE

Executive is Honored by Knights Templar Chief.

Mayor Charles Brown has been appointed aide to Captain General W. R. Parmer of Akron in the parade which will be a feature of the Knight Templar convention, to be held at Steubenville Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

The mayor has also been named a member of the visitors' committee at the convention, Charles Johnson, Wellsville, eminent commander of Pilgrim Commandery No. 55, Knight Templar of this city, has been chosen one on the grievance committee.

The Steubenville convention will be one of the largest Masonic gatherings ever held in Ohio. Ten thousand sodgemen are expected to march in the parade, which will be a feature on the afternoon of the first day.

ANOTHER GREEK CABINET QUITS

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The Greek cabinet has resigned, according to a Central News dispatch from Athens today.

The resignation took place so that a new ministry can be created upon a coalition basis.

PROHIBITION PARTY NOMINEE URGES DRYS TO VOTE TICKET

Prescott Gillilan, State Chairman, Accompanies Campaigner.

Declaring that "enforcement of the Volstead act in the United States had not been successful because the enforcement division was in the hands of men opposed to the anti-saloon movement," H. P. Faris, Clinton, Mo., candidate for president on the Prohibition ticket, appealed for the support of the "dry" vote in a brief address at the corner of Sixth and Washington streets, Tuesday evening.

Due to the adverse weather conditions a small crowd heard the Prohibition party standard bearer, who was accompanied by Prescott Gilliland of Columbus, state chairman. He came here from Salem, where he spoke Tuesday afternoon and left later in the evening for Greensburg, Pa., where on Wednesday he opened a seven-day tour of the Keystone state.

Lauds Platform.

"The Prohibition party claims to have the most concise and yet comprehensive platform of any of the parties in the United States at this election," declared Mr. Faris. "In the preamble we recognize God Almighty as the Sovereign over all in governmental affairs and that the principles enunciated by Christ should guide in all matters of government."

"Our platform declares for a court of international justice. We demand justice for both labor and capital but declare that the interests of the general public are paramount to both as it is the innocent bystanding public that suffers in the end.

"We denounce the enactment by the Republican and Demcoratic parties in many states of unjust and discriminatory election laws that make it almost, and in some states entirely, impossible for minor parties to retain their places on the official ballot, or for new parties to be formed, and we demand their repeal.

Three Big Balloons Take to Air for New Endurance Record

WASHINGTON C. H., O., Oct. 1.—Word was being awaited here today from points in Kentucky and Tennessee as to the direction taken by three giant balloons which took the air late yesterday in an attempt to break the world's air endurance record. The pilots hoped to remain in the air until late today.

Participating in the attempt are the Goodyear, the Detroit and Washington C. H. The Goodyear left the ground at 4:13 p. m., closely followed by the other bags. A strong southeasterly wind was expected to carry the balloons over Kentucky or Tennessee.

Convention Report Will be Made at Kiwanis Luncheon

Report of the annual state convention, held at Canton last week, will be made at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday noon.

Among those who will speak will be Secretary H. D. Hoffman and John W. Moore, delegates from the local club; State Trustees T. V. Milligan, Walter B. Hill, chairman of the inter-city relations committee, and ex-Governor R. C. Heddleston.

The attendance prize will be furnished by Ralph Sayre, winner of last week's prize. "Glad handers" will be W. L. Smith Jr., Ross Tisher, Attorney R. G. Thompson and Cyril Taylor.

Four Alleged Bookmakers Held.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 1.—Four alleged bookmakers, including one woman, were to be arraigned in East Cleveland police court today, following a raid on the basement of a home there, when, police say, complete equipment for the business was seized. Bookmakers, driven out of Cleveland by the war on gambling, were said to be plying their trade in the suburbs.

GLENDALE COAL MINERS STRIKE.

BELLAIRE, Oct. 1.—Miners at the Glendale mine, at Glendale, W. Va., struck this morning when an announcement of a cut in wages from 78 to 63 cents a ton, for loaders was posted. The miners have been working open shop, but when the wage cut was announced they appealed to the eastern Ohio headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America, asking assistance in organizing a local union.

Bomb Blasts in Waiters' Strike

LISBON, Oct. 1.—Bomb explosions in hotels and restaurants recently were attributed today by the police to waiters' strike. One person has been wounded and considerable damage done.

CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS OF STATE JOIN IN APPEAL TO ELECTORS TO REGISTER THURSDAY AND VOTE TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 4

Safeguard Your Right of Suffrage in Presidential, State, District and County Elections.

By WILLIAM J. HUSKE.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 1.—With election day less than five weeks distant and the first day of registration tomorrow in the registration cities of Ohio, the most intensive campaign ever staged having for its object the securing of a full vote in the presidential, state, district and county elections of November 4 next was under way throughout the state today.

Pointing to the menace to the government of the existence of a large class of qualified voters who consistently refuse to exercise the right of suffrage, civic organizations were behind the movement to induce the negligent and indifferent to register in order that they may participate in the choice of national and state officers, next month.

Boy Scouts Enlisted.

In Cleveland, Lakewood, East Cleveland, Cleveland Heights and other registration cities of Cuyahoga county, the Boy Scout troops had been enlisted to awaken people to their duties as citizens. Early today the scouts started out ringing doorbells and attempting to secure the pledges of householders to turn out and register tomorrow.

"Vote Nov. 4. Vote as you please but vote," was the message they were delivering in the state and nationwide campaign.

It was pointed out that nowhere in Ohio was more indifference displayed than in Cleveland and its suburbs. It was estimated by election board officials that in Cleveland alone there were approximately 275,000 persons entitled to vote in the coming election. Last year only 132,000 or less than 50 per cent registered.

Stay At Homes Increase.

Election officials said that the greater interest always displayed in a Presidential campaign would tend to some extent to bring out the voters in large numbers, but that the number of chronic "stay-at-homes" was constantly increasing.

The efforts of civic organizations were being reinforced by the party machinery of both old parties, and the newly formed committee supporting the candidacy of Senator Robert M. La Follette for the Presidency.

"Civic slackers should be made to feel the same responsibility that was brought home to wartime slackers," the Citizens' League declared.

FALL DISPLAY WINDOW SHADES GO UP TONIGHT

Merchants Prepare for Exhibition of Style Creations.

THREE-DAY EVENT

Refund Railroad and Trolley Fares to Visitors.

Window shades will be raised at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, marking the formal opening of the annual Fall Display Days, which local merchants will observe, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, of this week.

More than 80 merchants, members of the Retail Merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce, are co-operating in the campaign. The latest creations in dry goods, millinery, women's and childrea's suits and dresses and other wearing apparel, shoes and even furniture and other merchandise will be displayed.

The Fall Display Days have been widely advertised in surrounding communities and merchants are preparing to take care of large numbers of out-of-town shoppers. As a means of encouraging visitors, the Fare Refunding Association has announced that fares will be refunded on all three days.

Display Days are observed by local merchants semi-annually—in the spring and in the fall.

Protests Against River Highway Change Go to Gov. Donahey

Telegrams from the East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce and from Wellsville citizens, protesting against the change in the routing of the proposed Ohio River Highway between Empire and Wellsville will go to State Highway Director L. A. Boulay and Governor A. V. Donahey immediately.

This decision was reached at a conference between members of the Good Roads committee of the local Chamber and a committee of Wellsville and Empire business and professional men held here Tuesday afternoon. Among those from Wellsville attending the meeting were Dr. J. M. King, Dr. J. S. McCullough and C. W. Arnold. C. W. Boyle, of Port Homer, was also in attendance.

Steubenville and Toronto interests are said to be sponsoring a move by which the highway would leave the river at Empire and pass over the Knoxville and Yellow Creek roads. This route is said to be considerably longer than the course through "the Narrows" and Port Homer, Stratton and other river towns would be left off the main road.

Funds for the improvement of the road may be available within the next year or two.

Locatelli Plans Another Flight

ROME, Oct. 1.—Lieut. Locatelli, victim of disaster in the North Atlantic in an attempted world girdling flight, now plans a flight from Rome to Cape Verde, Rio De Janiero and Buenos Aires, he told Premier Mussolini.

"Count," Society Favorite, Spends Night in Jail

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Oct. 1—Accused of illegally wearing the uniform of a United States army officer and the uniform of Belgium, a friendly nation, "Count" Jacques Alexander Albert Von Maurik De Beaufort, international society figure, today was vainly trying to raise $500 bail following a night spent in the county jail.

The society favorite who has graced the salons of social leaders of Chicago, Los Angeles and other large American cities, was arrested by a deputy United States marshal, given several hours in which to secure the bail and then lodged in jail last night.

INDICTED MEN ENTER PLEAS

One Admission of Guilt by Accused at Lisbon.

Only one plea of guilty was entered in common pleas court, Lisbon, Tuesday morning, when prisoners indicted by the grand jury, were arraigned before Judge J. G. Moore.

The case of Paul Bates, 15-year-old, who was indicted with Charles Anderson on a charge of robbery, is to be referred to the juvenile court. Bates entered a plea of not guilty as also did Anderson.

The two were charged with taking $75 from R. E. Pomeroy and Bradley Burns.

Gilbert Kimes and Charles Jones, of East Palestine, charged with operating an automobile without the consent of the owner, entered pleas of not guilty.

Earl Huffman, of Leetonia, charged with burglary, after he entered a plea of not guilty, told the court he had no means to employ counsel. Attorney W. E. Warren, of Leetonia, was assigned to defend him.

Clarence Smith, of St. Clair township, indicted on a charge of non-support, pleaded not guilty.

Howard McElravey, of East Liverpool, charged with anbandonment, pleaded not guilty.

Charles Cunningham, of East Liverpool, indicted for assault, pleaded not guilty.

Dominic Santarelli, of Leetonia, entered a plea of not guilty to two charges of entering and publishing a false instrument.

Ray Coleman and George Fowler entered pleas of not guilty to driving away a truck.

The court announced that all criminal cases would be set for hearings on Monday morning.

Harry Ellgass, Truck Driver, Faces Two Serious Charges

Harry Ellgass, truck driver, was held for grand jury action by Justice P. V. Mackall, Tuesday, upon a charge of white slavery preferred by William A. Haun, in behalf of his daughter, Garnett Haun. His bond was fixed at $500.

Ellgass also entered a plea of not guilty to another serious charge preferred by the Haun girl. He was released in $800 bond for his appearance for a hearing on Wednesday, October 8.

NEW LEXINGTON, O., Oct. 1.—The name of Fred Strochmeiser, 33, of Glouxy had been added to the list of mine casualties in Ohio, while Claude Post, 24, of Crooksville, was in a serious condition, and may die, the result of a slate fall in Sunday Creek Coal company mine No. 3 at Santoy, yesterday. The two men were caught under the slate when repairing an air shaft.

KING OF STATE LINE LIQUOR GANG GUILTY, JURY VERDICT

Miller Will Hear Sentence Pronounced on Saturday.

ALIBI DEFENSE

Convicted of Possessing, Selling and Manufacturing Whisky.

Joseph Miller, familiarly known as "Alabama Joe" and reputed to be the "king of the state line bootleggers," faces a penitentiary sentence as a result of his conviction by a jury in Beaver county common pleas court at Beaver, Pa., Wednesday morning on charges of manufacturing, possessing and selling intoxicating liquors. Sentence will be passed by Judge W. S. Reader, Saturday.

Maximum Sentence 10 Years

The jury deliberated only a few minutes finding Miller "guilty as indicted." A maximum sentence of 10 years in the penitentiary is provided for conviction of any of the three indictments.

Miller was arrested at his home, located on the south side of the Ohio river near the State line, on July 23, after the police of Ohio and Pennsylvania had made several vain attempts to capture him.

In his defense, he denied that he was the man known as "Alabama Joe," declaring this nickname was applied to another party, a noted gambler, whose last name was Walton. He further denied that he had been active in bootlegging activities

CALCUTTA ROAD JOB RESUMED

Surfacing Begins After Delay of Six Weeks.

Surfacing of the East Liverpool-Calcutta road, which has been held up for approximately six weeks, was started Wednesday by The General Asphalt Paving company, of Canton.

Work has been started at the southern end of the proposed improvement near the entrance to Riverview cemetery. The asphalt mixing plant is being operated near the Laughlin station, East End. Trucks engaged in hauling the material, use the Park Way and Thompson boulevard roads.

The state this week closed that part of the highway between the entrance to Riverview cemetery and the Thompson boulevard, traffic being detoured along McKinnon avenue, Anderson boulevard and the Park Way.

The contractors hope to have the sufacing work completed within two or three weeks. With the exception of a short stretch between Young's alley and North street, this will provide a new highway from the Horn Switch to Calcutta.

Construction of the curbing for the Calcutta road started in May and by the terms of the contract was to have been completed September 1. The "backward spring" was held responsible by the contractors for the delay.

Two Men Fined.

Pleading guilty to a charge of assault and battery preferred by Mrs. Delilia Wohlemuth, of Chester, Grafton Barrett of Rural Lane was fined $5 and costs by Justice P. V. Mackall, Tuesday evening. Barrett was arrested by Constable T. C. Smith.

Emery Kimmerling was arrested by Constable T. C. Smith at his home in Beechwood Tuesday evening on information preferred by his wife, charging assault and battery. Arriqned before Justice Mackall, Wednesday morning, Kimmerling was fined $10 and costs. He was given seven days in which to settle the fine.

"Count," Society Favorite, Spends Night in Jail

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Oct. 1—Accused of illegally wearing the uniform of a United States army officer and the uniform of Belgium, a friendly nation, "Count" Jacques Alexander Albert Von Maurik De Beaufort, international society figure, today was vainly trying to raise $500 bail following a night spent in the county jail.

The society favorite who has graced the salons of social leaders of Chicago, Los Angeles and other large American cities, was arrested by a deputy United States marshal, given several hours in which to secure the bail and then lodged in jail last night.

INDICTED MEN ENTER PLEAS

One Admission of Guilt by Accused at Lisbon.

Only one plea of guilty was entered in common pleas court, Lisbon, Tuesday morning, when prisoners indicted by the grand jury, were arraigned before Judge J. G. Moore.

The case of Paul Bates, 15-year-old, who was indicted with Charles Anderson on a charge of robbery, is to be referred to the juvenile court. Bates entered a plea of not guilty as also did Anderson.

The two were charged with taking $75 from R. E. Pomeroy and Bradley Burns.

Gilbert Kimes and Charles Jones, of East Palestine, charged with operating an automobile without the consent of the owner, entered pleas of not guilty.

Earl Huffman, of Leetonia, charged with burglary, after he entered a plea of not guilty, told the court he had no means to employ counsel. Attorney W. E. Warren, of Leetonia, was assigned to defend him.

Clarence Smith, of St. Clair township, indicted on a charge of non-support, pleaded not guilty.

Howard McElravey, of East Liverpool, charged with anbandonment, pleaded not guilty.

Charles Cunningham, of East Liverpool, indicted for assault, pleaded not guilty.

Dominic Santarelli, of Leetonia, entered a plea of not guilty to two charges of entering and publishing a false instrument.

Ray Coleman and George Fowler entered pleas of not guilty to driving away a truck.

The court announced that all criminal cases would be set for hearings on Monday morning.

Harry Ellgass, Truck Driver, Faces Two Serious Charges

Harry Ellgass, truck driver, was held for grand jury action by Justice P. V. Mackall, Tuesday, upon a charge of white slavery preferred by William A. Haun, in behalf of his daughter, Garnett Haun. His bond was fixed at $500.

Ellgass also entered a plea of not guilty to another serious charge preferred by the Haun girl. He was released in $800 bond for his appearance for a hearing on Wednesday, October 8.

The two men were caught under the slate when repairing an air shaft.

KING OF STATE LINE LIQUOR GANG GUILTY, JURY VERDICT

Miller Will Hear Sentence Pronounced on Saturday.

ALIBI DEFENSE

Convicted of Possessing, Selling and Manufacturing Whisky.

Joseph Miller, familiarly known as "Alabama Joe" and reputed to be the "king of the state line bootleggers," faces a penitentiary sentence as a result of his conviction by a jury in Beaver county common pleas court at Beaver, Pa., Wednesday morning on charges of manufacturing, possessing and selling intoxicating liquors. Sentence will be passed by Judge W. S. Reader, Saturday.

Maximum Sentence 10 Years

The jury deliberated only a few minutes finding Miller "guilty as indicted." A maximum sentence of 10 years in the penitentiary is provided for conviction of any of the three indictments.

Miller was arrested at his home, located on the south side of the Ohio river near the State line, on July 23, after the police of Ohio and Pennsylvania had made several vain attempts to capture him.

In his defense, he denied that he was the man known as "Alabama Joe," declaring this nickname was applied to another party, a noted gambler, whose last name was Walton. He further denied that he had been active in bootlegging activities

Surfacing Begins After Delay of Six Weeks.

Surfacing of the East Liverpool-Calcutta road, which has been held up for approximately six weeks, was started Wednesday by The General Asphalt Paving company, of Canton.

Work has been started at the southern end of the proposed improvement near the entrance to Riverview cemetery. The asphalt mixing plant is being operated near the Laughlin station, East End. Trucks engaged in hauling the material, use the Park Way and Thompson boulevard roads.

The state this week closed that part of the highway between the entrance to Riverview cemetery and the Thompson boulevard, traffic being detoured along McKinnon avenue, Anderson boulevard and the Park Way.

The contractors hope to have the sufacing work completed within two or three weeks. With the exception of a short stretch between Young's alley and North street, this will provide a new highway from the Horn Switch to Calcutta.

Construction of the curbing for the Calcutta road started in May and by the terms of the contract was to have been completed September 1. The "backward spring" was held responsible by the contractors for the delay.

Two Men Fined.

Pleading guilty to a charge of assault and battery preferred by Mrs. Delilia Wohlemuth, of Chester, Grafton Barrett of Rural Lane was fined $5 and costs by Justice P. V. Mackall, Tuesday evening. Barrett was arrested by Constable T. C. Smith.

Emery Kimmerling was arrested by Constable T. C. Smith at his home in Beechwood Tuesday evening on information preferred by his wife, charging assault and battery. Arrigned before Justice Mackall, Wednesday morning, Kimmerling was fined $10 and costs. He was given seven days in which to settle the fine.

BRITISH VOTE LOOMS IN RUSS TREATY FIGHT

Russian Pact Sure to Provoke Bitter Clash.

TEST OF LABOR

Defeat in Parliamentary Battle Means Call for Election.

LONDON — The ratification of the proposed treaty between Britain and Russia, now about to be passed upon by the house of commons will provoke an embittered parliamentary battle and may bring about the total defeat of the Labor government.

The consequences of such a defeat would be an immediate general election with Labor fighting with its back to the wall.

A curious history attaches to the treaty in its present state. For four months the Soviet delegates and the British Foreign Office had been negotiating without arriving at any tangible result. On August 5, after an all-night sitting, it was officially announced that the conference had broken down. But a number of Labor members, outside the government, immediately got together, brought terrific pressure to bear on Ramsay MacDonald to have the negotiations re-opened, and the next day it was announced that agreement had been reached.

The main points in the treaty are comparatively simple, but they have aroused a terrific storm of opposition in Britain, and the treaty itself was denounced by Lloyd George in the house of commons as a "folly and a fake."

Loan Main Issue.

The main clash comes over the loan — about two hundred million dollars — that British promises to make to Russia on certain conditions. The chief of these is that Russia gives a nominal recognition to her pre-war debts owed to Britain and agrees, provided that the loan is forthcoming, to pay compensation to injury done to the property of British subjects during the war an dafter. Thus the loan and the compensation are interdependent and the Russian attitude is "No loan, no compensation."

Britain further gives the fullest recognition to the Soviet government, gives her trade representatives full diplomatic immunity, and enlarges and facilitates the former trade agreement. Russia, on the other hand, makes considerable concessions to British fishermen in the White Sea, gives a certain number of trading privileges, promises to negotiate with British bondholders and undertakes not to encourage Bolshevik propaganda in Britain.

Bitterly Criticised.

Never has any agreement of similar character been so severely criticized in Britian as this one. Both the Torry Party and the Liberal Party oppose it practically unanimously; 75 per cent of the newspapers are against it; the bankers have issued the strongest manifestatoes condemning it, especially because the British Government has promised to guarantee the loan.

The opposition takes several forms. That of the "Die Hards"—the extremists of the Tory Party—takes the shape of having any dealings whatever with the Bolsheviks, whom they term "murderers and thieves."

The oposition of the bankers and the commercial community is based on the ground that the Bolsheviks do not respect private property and have shown no indication to honor any obligations into which they have entered. They say that to loan good money to a government whose motto is confiscation is to invite disaster.

Lloyd George and most of the Liberals base their attack mostly on the fact that the Treaty is absolutely indefinite. He states that no guarantee whatever is provided, either in the direction of capital or interest for the repayment of the loan. He stresses the fact that Britain herself is sadly in need of capital at the moment. And he pours ridicule on the idea that lawful compensation to British subjects for their destroyed property should be dependent on money being first advanced by Britain out of which the compensation can be paid

Defended By Labor.

Ramsay MacDonald's answer to the criticism will be delivered on broad grounds. He puts forward two points. First, that an atmosphere of friendliness must be opened up between the nations of Europe before peace can be fully restored and that sooner or later a great people like Russia must re-enter the comity of nations; secondly, that thousands of British merchants are crying out for the re-opening of trade with Russia, that such an event will have an enormous effect on unemployment in Britain, and that only by the grant of a large loan to restart the shattered industries of Russia

American Author Urges Bloodless Irish Settlement

BELFAST, Ireland — "For God's sake, settle your own affairs without bloodshed!" was the advice of Harold Speakman, a young American author-artist, to the people of Ulster and of the Irish Free State, after he had made an 800-mile tramp through almost the entire island, with a donkey and cart to carry his supplies.

"In the south, as well as in the north, there are thousands of good, sincere people who, above all things, wish a peaceful settlement of affairs," Speakman declared. "It should constantly be remembered that Ulster and the Free State are geographically bound together for better or for worse and recourse to force of any kind would seriously injure and perhaps ruin both sections of the country."

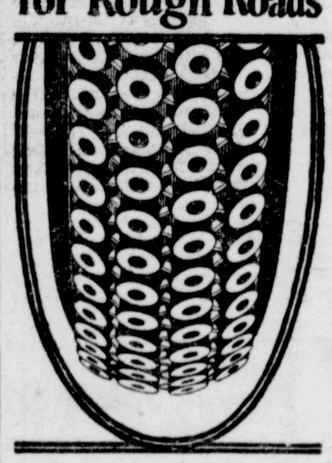

Speakman's tramp through Ireland, in search of material and local color for a new book on Ireland, "a kind of Irish Odyssey," has been a real lark. "In fact," he declared, "the sport has been so good that it will be a shame to take the money I shall derive from my book."

Speakman has had other similar larks in different parts of the world, chiefly in China and Palestine, after which he wrote the books, "Beyond Shanghai" and "Hilltops in Galilee."

First Aid Training.

COLUMBUS.—First aid training among miners and mill workers in Ohio will depend entirely upon state inspectors of the mine division and use of Ohio's mine rescue trucks and car according to a report of Jerome Watson, chief of the state mine division, explianing that the United States mine rescue car, stationed at Columbus, has been withdrawn for three months. Ohio is planning extensively for a gigantic first aid and safety meet next year, such as was held recently at Bellaire.

SAYS SHE LOOKED FOR YEARS FOR A REMEDY LIKE IT

Her Nerves Were on Edge, Could Not Sleep and Lost Her Appetite, Often Had Headaches and Suffered Daily From Constipation. Gains Relief Thru "VENDOL."

The people of East Liverpool are placing great confidence in Vendol as they read daily about the great good this new vegetable tonic is doing. Many call daily on the Vendol Specialist and he tells them how to take this medicine to get the very utmost success.

One of the latest testimonials sent in is from a well known lady who says,

MRS. ED. YOUNG.

"For years and years I've been looking for a remedy like Vendol," writes Mrs. Ed. Young, 25 So. Front St., New Castle, Pa., "and now that this wonderful medicine has brought me relief I cry with joy when I think of how I used to suffer.

"I can't tell how miserable I used to be. Had headaches all the time, female weakness dragged me down and I became so nervous I could hardly sleep at nights I tossed and rolled so. I was always constipated and my stomach was in such bad shape I lost all desire for food.

"Now, since taking Vendol I'm like a new woman. The headaches have disappeared and the dragging down pains have left me. At nights I sleep fine—and my stomach and bowels are in such good shape my appetite has turned and I'm eating like a kid again. Vendol surely is wonderful and I'm telling everyone I know how it has helped me."

Don't be afraid to give Vendol a trial if you suffer as this lady did. It will help you.

The Vendol Specialist at Mathews Medicine Store says: "No one should confuse Vendol with any other medicine they have taken for this new tonic discovery will prove different. I want everyone to call, on me and hear the story of this great remedy.

Informal Presentation of Autumn Fashions

The Fashion Show is On! Thursday, Friday and Saturday

Even before the chill days of Fall come the new garments.

Aren't you interested in what the new models are going to disclose? Wouldn't you like to know just what fabrics will be used, the correct lines, the new colors?

Being a woman, we are sure you must be, so we extend an invitation to view this collection of Autumn fashions. Here you will find answers to all your questions. Here the new Fall modes await you.

The new frock mode is simplicity itself—simplicity unadorned, but more striking and effective than ever. The new ribbed materials—the beltless silhouette, the richly toned colors—the new forms of trimming. These and many other fashion ideas invite your interest and court your approval.

Smart Blouses For Autumn and Winter

The long tunic blouse has stepped to the fore in the fashion world. It is the newest entrant into the field of blouses and walks off with all the honors of the mode.

Worn with any slip of your choosing it effects a costume in a flash. It may be worn with the sash or with the unbroken line.

You may choose any color in plain or figured Canton, Tricosham, Roshanara, Crepe de Chine or Georgette. Favorite shades are Pyralin, Goblin blue, fallow, navy, rust and greys. We also have the slips in satin and Canton crepe.

Overblouses in plain and figured Canton and crepe de chine or beaded all-over or in design still have a prominent place in the Fashion world. The beaded over-blouses come from Paris—which is sufficient recommendation.

English broadcloth is used in the development of the overblouses for general wear.

Display of Handsome Cloth Coats

The season's smartest coats are on display here at this time. The coat comes into its own this season and you will find this collection the smartest the mode has to offer.

Every new material, every new silhouette, every new trimming and every new color. The godet, the tube, the cape, the flare—each appears in a number of versions.

The newest materials are Jammuna, Kashmana, Kashmara, Duava, Flamingo, Lustroso, Helenco, Furlaine, Roubiat, Oriona and Gerona.

Colors popular this season are black, navy, brown, taupe, penny, snuff, pheasant, grey, putty, russet, rust, copper cinnabar, shutter-green and rosewood.

Fur trimmings on the new coats are nutria, rock Marten, Australian opossum, mole, civit cat, baby fox, Fisher, natural opossum, dyed Fitch, Hudson seal, Jap mink, muskrat, beaver, and natural squirrel.

Dahlia Show and Sale During Fall Display Days

Deliveries Made in the Spring. Prices from 20c to $3.50.

See the scores of beautiful Dahlias—grown off the roots, on sale for Spring delivery. All field grown roots—wide variety—guaranteed satisfaction or your money refunded.

You are invited to view our extensive display of dahlias during the Fall Style Show days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 2, 3 and 4 on our First floor.

Hosiery for Fall Chooses Paris Colors

Our Fall display of hosiery includes a number of interesting shades that will go exceedingly well with cut-out foot-wear.

Colored hosiery is first for Fall, lending the costume a further touch of color and looking fresh and new every minute. Paris still finds the shaded hose to her liking. So do we here, for there is a certain smartness—sophistication, if you will—about them.

Sheer chiffon and thread silks in new shades of rose, pongee, banana, nothing, nude, otter, J. Deer, almond, sand, mouse, silver, moonlight and the ever popular shades of black and white. The chiffon hose will be worn all winter, with the invisible "unda-hose"

Evening shades in thread silk are orchid, Nile green, rose, gold, poudre blue and flesh.

A new innovation is the gunmetal chiffon hose with black heel and toe.

It's the Little Things That Count.

At last Dame Fashion has made up her mind as to what we shall wear and here you have the result of months of planning and buying. Trifles are as breathlessly lovely as they are joyous of color—the little important things that make the mode.

Gloves of kid or suede in every color and style. Shades of grey and tan in the short mannish gauntlet are popular.

Neckwear in all its crisp simplicity. Linen and lace collar and cuffs in Puritan, V neck and Buster Brown models with gauntlet cuffs.

Veils, large or small, round or square—plain or adorned with scroll figures or the new French dots.

Purses, envelope shape, entirely rule the mode in that direction. Bead-bags for the more formal occasions.

Silk, silk fibre and flannel scarfs in brilliant shades or subdued.

Beads in an endless array of colors, sizes and shapes with earrings and bracelets to match—on and on through the list of trifles that make a costume perfect.

A scene from "The Cat and the Canary," Ceramic theatre, three days starting Thursday, with special bargain matinee Saturday.

A brief program is being arranged for the occasion, including vocal selections by Mrs. Joseph Johnson, reports of delegates to the federation convention and discussion of club work. A social hour will follow the business session. Refreshments will be served.

The club membership was brought up to the quota of 25 with the election of two members Tuesday afternoon at a preliminary meeting in the home of Mrs. E. F. Swift, Main street. The names of Mrs. R. E. Games and Mrs. F. W. Oren were placed on the club roster.

Mrs. Arch Henstock Hostess.

Mrs. Arch Henstock of Commerce street will entertain members of the Gleaners' Sunday school class of the First Methodist Episcopal church on Thursday evening at her home. It will be the monthly meeting of the organization.

Improve River Road

Highway connections between this city and Steubenville are still in an almost impossible stage while the condition of the river roads connecting Steubenville with points further down the river improves as the remaining stretches between the Jefferson county metropolis and Martins Ferry rapidly near completion.

This new highway, a part of the East Liverpool-Marietta undertaking, will be an asset in linking up the string of the valley cities and also forming a connecting road with the national highway at Bridgeport.

The river road on the West Virginia side below Steubenville, is almost impassable, it is said, and many autoists are now using the Ohio side, although there is a bad stretch between Brilliant and Rayland and there is a temporary detour between Brilliant and Georges Run.

Fay Holderness Pursues Sweetie In New Mix Film

For the first time in many a day Fay Holderness, eminent character actress, has been cast in a humorous role. She has a prominent part in support of Tom Mix in his latest production "Ladies to Board," which opens a three day engagement at the American theatre Thursday. In the picture Miss Holderness falls hopelessly and finally successfully in love with Pee Wee Holmes, Tom Mix's diminutive cowboy. Before she realizes how successful she is, she has pursued her quarry with relentless determination which affords a lot of laughs.

Miss Holderness has never been on the stage. At the age of fifteen she won a teacher's diploma at Wesleyan College of Music in Bloomington, Ill. Her father is a well known organist and her brother, Frederick MacMurray, is one of the country's foremost composers. She forsook Chicago, came to Hollywood and entered pictures. One of her earliest roles was a leading character part in D. W. Griffith's "Hearts of the World.

RADIO UTOPIA PREDICTED BY "LADY EDISON"

Beulah Louise Henry Says Labor Will be Eliminated.

FORESEES BEAUTY

Envisions Radio-propelled Ocean Liner.

NEW YORK — Beulah Louise Henry, "Lady Edison," who has produced 33 successful inventions, predicts the dawn of a radio age, when labor will be eliminated and the world electrified into beauty.

Miss Henry envisioned, among other remarkable developments a radio-propelled transatlantic liner, the harnessing of the sun to grow crops out of season and the linking of the psychic world with the physical through radio.

Miss Henry is now working on an invention in collaboration with Grinnell Matthews, creator of the famous "death ray." It was said by Miss Henry to be electrical and would have an important influence on the health of mankind. The invention may be called the "life ray."

"Lady Edison" does not believe women will have much to do with the development of radio Utopia.

"Radio always will be more interesting to the man than to the woman," declared Miss Henry when interviewed at the World's First Radio Fair at Madison Square Garden, where she was a guest of honor. "A woman accepts radio without inquiry; man wants to find out the cause—and tinkers. Woman prefers clothes and flirtation above mechanical details."

The presence of only a score of women among the thousands attending the radio exhibit upheld this statement. However, James F. Kerr, general manager of the exposition, held a different opinion.

"Radio has stepped from the attic into the drawing room," he said. "It has become an important part of our social structure. Where before the woman banished a radio set to the cellar, now she considers it part of her household furniture and recreation."

Among the novelties of the fair were a "radio ear," capable of recording conversations upon wax records several miles away; a loud-speaker crystal set, operated by means of the rotation of a phonograph disc; and a radio-phone for use in mines and rescue work.

There were "limousine" sets and "flivver" sets. There were radio outfits camouflaged in doll houses; vanity cases, match boxes and watches. One crystal set was small enough to hide under one's thumbnail.

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1924.

Popular Pennant Winner

Every baseball fan in the nation's capital, from President Calvin Coolidge down to the office boy whose grandmother died at least once during the 1924 season, is happy today, for Washington is the American league entry in the world's series against the New York Giants, victor in four successive National League races.

Seldom, if ever, has there been such general rejoicing over the victory of a major league baseball team as marked the Senators' defeat of the Boston Red Sox in Monday's battle, thus clinching their right to the flag in Ban Johnson's circuit. The game gave the club representing the capital its first opportunity to compete in the baseball classic after a 23-year struggle.

Unmindful of an incessant rain, hundreds watched a mechanical scoreboard in front of a Washington newspaper office depict the story of the victory that meant so much for the boy-manager, Stanley Harris, the youngest major league team pilot to win a pennant and earn the privilege of battling for the highest honor of the national pastime. Social proprieties were completely forgotten. Men slapped utter strangers on the back, and hugged the person standing next to them, regardless of whether it was a man or a woman, when the end of the game showed Washington the winner. The White House, through C. Bascom Slemp, secretary to the president, wired congratulations and then the city made preparations to welcome their returning heroes upon their arrival home on Tuesday.

There were two reasons for the intense interest in the struggle of the Washington team—Walter Johnson and Manager Harris. Fans were plugging for Johnson, famous pitching ace, because he will take part in his first world series after 18 years in the big league. And they were hoping and praying for Harris because of the great burden borne on the shoulders of a youth, for Harris, who is only 28 years of age, has accomplished wonders where men of mature years, experienced in hectic pennant battles, had failed. And now both Johnson and Harris are so popular in Washington that they would have no difficulty in winning places on a baseball ticket in a presidential race.

Perhaps the greatest factor in winning supporters for the Washington team was the universal desire of baseball lovers to break the New York monopoly on the world series. And the fact that one New York club was deprived of the honor of participating in its fourth classic was cheerful news to millions of fans who realize the likelihood of interest in the series ebbing in the event it becomes an intra-city clash.

And now fans anxiously await the first of the title games. Eyes will turn toward Washington next Saturday, when Manager John J. McGraw's cohorts invade the capital. And irrespective of their judgment of the ability of the competing clubs, most baseball followers will root for the boy manager and his athletes.

A Waltz Revival

Dancing teachers, dipping into the field of prophecy, in form the public that melody and rhythm are to return to ballrooms this winter. In both Paris and New York, they say, the tango and the waltz are very much in evidence, and when two such leaders in the realm of the dance agree the result seems obvious.

In the first place, orchestras playing for dances are returning to stringed instruments and are muting such wind instruments as they still use. Many of them are said to be using two pianos. There will still be syncopation, but the real, honest-to-goodness wild jazz stuff will disappear.

The tango that is returning is very much modified and subdued from its Argentine predecessor of some years ago, and the waltz, according to these authorities, is "prettier than ever."

It's hard to believe, but possibly it's all true. Perhaps the minuet will be revived.

THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

10—THE NAVY DEPARTMENT

The United States navy is the nation's first defense. Situated as we are with thousands of miles of ocean between our shores and those of any possible foe, the American people know that so long as their fleets command the seas the homeland will be safe from invasion.

Knowledge of these facts became rooted in the minds of Americans at a very early period in the nation's history. Hundreds of millions of dollars have been spent on naval construction and upkeep, and thousands of our young men have spent their lives in the naval service. The nation has always gladly given of its best to the navy, secure in the knowledge that in so doing it has been providing certain insurance against the horrors of invasion and war.

How well the navy has fulfilled its part is a matter of record. For more than a hundred years no foreign foe has set foot on American soil. The navy has written some of the most brilliant pages in the annals of American history and some of the nation's most picturesque and heroic figures have walked its forecastles and quarterdecks. Every school boy knows the story of the exploits of the daring and indomitable John Paul Jones, of the intrepid Barry, of the gallant Dewey, and a host of others almost equally notable, who have gone down to the sea to serve their country in ships.

During its most recent test, in the World war, the navy met and accomplished the tasks with which it was confronted in a manner in every way worthy of the high traditions of its history. Coming into the war at a time when the commercial fleets of the allied nations were melting like snow in the furnace before the raids of the German submarine flotilla, when Great Britain and France were feeling the pinch of hunger, and the results of the war trembled in the balance, the American navy performed services at sea less spectacular but in every way as important to the allied cause as the victories of the matchless American army in France. It invented new methods for conducting naval warfare and did more to abate the submarine menace in a few short months than the combined allied navies had been able to accomplish during nearly three years of war.

WHERE PLANS ARE MADE

To support the main fighting strength of the United States navy a huge organization is necessary. This centers in the navy department in Washington, under the head of a cabinet officer, the secretary of the navy. He has under him, in charge of the technical oprations of the navy, a chief of naval operations, with the rank of admiral, equivalent to a general in the army. This admiral is the senior officer in the navy and his word in the service is law. Next to him, also with the rank of admiral, but junior in grade, are the commander in chief of the united fleet, the commander in chief of the battle fleet, the commander in chief of the Asiatic fleet. In addition there are three vice admirals, equivalent in rank to lieutenant generals of the land forces, in charge of important departments of the fleet organizations, and rear admirals in charge of each division of four super-dreadnaughts, forming the main fleet, and of each important division of the scouting and supply branches.

In addition to these divisions of the actual battle forces there are shore forces, including the departments of navigation, ordnance, engineering, supply, medicine and surgery, construction and repair, aeronautics, yards, and docks, each in charge of a rear admiral. There is also in the navy department a commandant of the marine corps, with the rank of major general, charged with the duty of supplying sea-soldiers for the necessary land and sea duty with the ships of the navy.

There were authorized for the navy, under the bill of July 1, 1918, 5,499 officers and 137,495 men, maying the total personnel, and 28,500 marines. Under the appropriation bill for 1922, however, only 86,000 enlisted men in the navy 19,500 marines were provided for, as it was decided that during the period of financial stress the navy and marine corps could perform their functions with reduced forces.

OUR SAILORS GO TO SCHOOL

To man the modern warships a new type of sailor has necessarily come into being, a sailor who knows almost nothing about ropes and sails. Fully 50 per cent of the navy personnel consists of specialists, more than 30 callings being represented. As an example, a destroyer is manned by 50 sailors in the ranks and 64 petty officers, and in the navy a petty officer generally means a gunner's mate, a machinist's mate, or some other expert. Recruits, being young, are seldom skilled. It is necessary, therefore, to train them. In 1921, 12,063 men completed courses in the navy schools. The graduates included blacksmiths, painters, shipwrights, bakers, cooks, fuel-oil experts, electricians, machinists, musicians, opticians, signal men, submarine men and stenographers.

One means by which the navy hopes to attract and retain the right kind of young men is by issuing insurance on the future of those who make a career of the service. After 16 years a navy man may be transferred to the fleet naval reserve, where the average pay for men of his class is $73 a month. Twenty years of service entitles the navy man to a transfer to the same reserve, but with a higher rate of pay, the average being $104 a month. This transfer system is holding a good many high-class men in the service, but with 86,000 men in the standing navy, it is necessary to enlist 30,000 men a year.

The United States is divided into 37 recruiting districts, each covered by a recruiting officer, medical officer and force of recruiting men. The recruiting service is highly organized. The men are taught the principles of salesmanship, treating the navy as a commodity which they are to sell to the public. They are graded on the results, counting enlistments as sales.

The quality of the men enlisted is insured by medical examination at the recruiting station and by use of reference forms from previous employers. The standards required reduce the number of acceptances to 35 per cent of the applications. This number is further reduced at the training station, where more careful medical examination may reveal physical defects not discovered at the recruiting office.

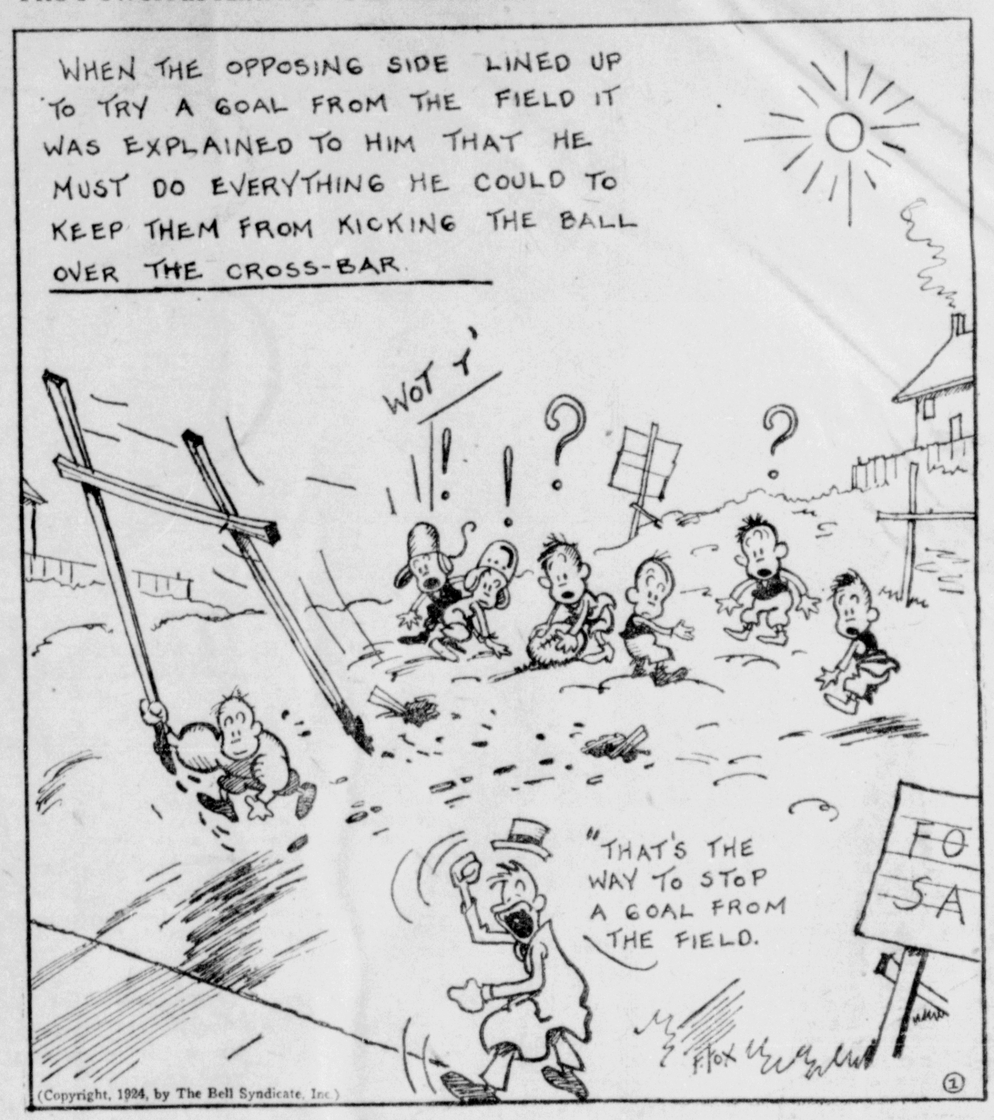

THE ALMOST INVINCIBLE ZEP

Nothing was so strikingly demonstrated during the late war as the supremacy of the heavy fighting ship. The airplane and the Zeppelin, with their novel and sensational methods of attack, drew much attention, but not a single capital ship was injured by bombs from the air. In fact, no airplane or dirigible ever attempted to get near enough to one to deliver a telling blow. The weakness of the ship of the air as a fighting instrument is its short radius of action and inability to operate in bad weather.

During the World war, the submarine also attracted great attention through its sensational use by the Germans. A careful search of the records, however, reveals that not a single capital ship of the British grand fleet was sunk by a submarine. British and French fleets operated constantly in waters infested with submarines, but while the commercial fleets of the allies were reduced almost to extinction, not a single one of the great ships of the line was damaged.

The submarine, although a valuable auxiliary has two weak points in its blindness and vulnerability to an explosive depth charge. One entirely submerged, the submarine cannot see to fire a shot or even to set a course to intercept the enemy without projecting its periscope above the surface. Battleships are accompanied by fleets of destroyers and scouts equipped with listening devices of the microphone variety more sensitive than the stethoscope by which the doctor listens to the workings of a suspected heart. Listeners stationed at these electrical ears can tell instantly when a submarine comes within a radius of several miles.

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

By ETHEL MARSHALL

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The "little season" is under way, and English and American society is flocking back to town from Scotland, where the season has been rather unsatisfactory. So poor has the shooting been that J. R. Steers, of Washington, who leased historic Glenkindie Lodge from Lord Burgh, estimates that every bag cost him $100 a brace.

Queen Alexandra has decided not to appoint a new comptroller for her household, in place of Sir Dighton Probyn, whose death occurred recently. The duties of that office will be combined with those of her private secretary, Sir Hugh Streatfield.

This decision by the queen mother is in accord with the policy recently adopted by the British royal family in reducing expenditures wherever possible in order to meet the demands made upon their households by increasing social obligations.

London society's latest fad is ice skating, and the fad threatens to rival dancing. It is only about once in ten years that England has an opportunity to indulge in skating on ice frozen under natural conditions. Usually England has to journey to far-off Switzerland, but now Gordon Selfridge, the Anglo-American merchant prince, has had an artificial ice rink built upon the roof of his store and it is greatly enjoyed by society, and it is being suggested that another rink be built upon the roof of the Savoy hotel.

Miss Grace Vanderbilt has arrived at Claridge's from San Sebastian, where, with her parents, she terminated a cruise in the yacht Atlantic.

Frocks, and particularly dance frocks, are getting shorter and shorter. The majority of them end about two inches below the knee, though in some cases the effect is slightly mitigated by an uneven hemline. Miss Dene Goriet, a pretty American debutante recently presented at court, introduced a new variation by appearing in the fashionable Berkeley restaurant with a gown having a hemline with a distinct slant from right to left.

England is making progress. For years no self-respecting English woman has dreamed of wearing any clothes but those made for her by the best modistes. Ready-to-wear clothes were considered altogether too hideous for consideration, and they were. Now the ice has been broken and one of the best known modistes, with shops in Paris and London, has installed ready-to-wear clothes for fashionable people and his success has been instantaneous.

Why do women select certain clothes? Queen Maria of Rumania is having three dresses made by a London dressmaker, simply because she thinks the designs "regal."

The queen entered the shop of this fashionable modiste and asked to see some original designs. Three models were paraded before her and she murmured: "I must have them because they are so regal, and becoming a queen."

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Columbus Circle is a sort of open forum for malcontents, like that of London's Hyde Park. Nightly there are people who address street crowds from automobiles, portable platforms and soap boxes.

Some are religious zealots, with long hair and bare feet. Others sing praise of single tax, various isms, and other distinctive and disparaging doctrines. Their talks are morbid and gay. One Japanese jingoist declares we will be at war by mid-winter.

The orators come from every walk in life. There are grocery clerks, small tradesmen, college professors, students, actors and one is a husky truck driver. They rarely take up collections, and the main idea is simply to "blow off steam."

The police are on hand, but are tolerant, and only observe the traffic violations. One man who was growing red-faced in his exhorting, pleaded for the world to take up vegetarianism. "I used to be a chronic dyspeptic," he shouted. "Now I can lick any man in the crowd."

His challenge was not accepted. A man in clerical costume talked on the "Psychology of Fear." He said there wasn't a man or woman living who couldn't walk into a den of lions if he or she had absolutely mastered fear.

A woman from the tail of a banjo-torched cart spoke for "Birth Control." She wore a jaunty red hat and was becomingly costumed. She could not have been more than 23 years old. "I have left high society," she said, "to go out on the highways and plead this cause."

The open forum usually opens at dusk and at midnight they are still at it, and at the later hour they have their biggest audiences, for the catch the homegoing theatrical crowds. Most of the oratory is mere fiddle-faddle, but all seem tremendously sincere and earnest.

New York streets can be filled and emptied with amazing speed. In a jewelry shop across from the Hippodrome a young bandit was holding up the proprietor who lifted his voice for "Help!" above the racket of the elevated. In two minutes the streets and sidewalks were a compact mass of humanity. All traffic suspended. Then someone from a window cried: "Look out he's going to fire a gun!" and just as quickly the sidewalks and streets emptied. Speaking for myself, I made the basement entrance of a department store in nothing flat.

"What can I show you?" asked a floorwalker, who evidently did not sense my alarm.

"The smelling salts department," I replied. And gravely he piloted me to the drug counter.

Whoops, my dear! And if I'd known you were coming I'd have baked a whortleberry pie. New York is to have a male mannequin show. The idea was first introduced in London, where there was a parade to and fro of men in the latest sartorial splendor. The show will be held in one of the private rooms of a smart hotel. Admittance will be only by special invitation.

A sheet music salesman in a Broadway store was taken to a hospital the other day with nervous exhaustion. He said his nerves had been frazzled by customers coming to him to buy songs, and then asking him: "Would you mind humming this tune for me, please?"

There is one music store in the Times Square district, however, that has eight piano players, ready at all times to play tunes that are wanted. They are paid $50 a week.

Some people never miss an opportunity for contradiction. Which fact recalls the story of the woman who was traveling through "Wild Wales."

"My, ain't the mountains high!" exclaimed a fellow passenger.

The contradictory one looked out of the window to see the summits of the lofty hills, and sniffed:

"Only the tops of them is," she protested.

No, this traffic problem will never be solved until pedestrians are equipped with standardized lights, bumpers and "stop" signs.

There is much to be said for the Chinese method of warfare. Hardly anybody gets killed, and business proceeds almost the same as usual.

IF MONKEYS USED FIRE

Lloyd George warns the world "China is awakening," and her knowledge of flying machines, explosives, poison gas and their possibilities is a danger to the world's civilization.

It will be had for the world when the Chinese discover that, instead of dropping girl babies into the river to keep down population, they could drop bombs on western peoples and take their land.

Lloyd George says: "The Chinese took thousands of years to ascend to philosophic serenity; it has not taken them long to decsend to the level of superior races, whose highest court of appeal is abided over by death."

Human beings rule the world and find it worth living on, because, with all their intelligence, monkeys never learned to make a fire or keep one going. Scientists tell you that if monkeys had understood control of fire they would have burned off all the forests ages before man arrived. Chinese, learning the use of TNT and poison gas, may be worse for our civilization that fire-using monkeys would have been to the world in general.

RACE HORSES AND RADIO

Colonel Green, son of the late well-known, very rich Hetty Green, of New York, is spending his great fortune on investigation of radio possibilities, building laboratories, making experiments with the help of experienced scientists.

That's better than spending your inherited money to build up a racing stable, and bringing up your own children to be a little more worthless than you yourself are.

INSULTING MOHAMMED

Mustapha Kemal, new boss of the Turks, offers to his celestial boss, Mohammed, the last final deadly insult, having uncovered the faces of women, and allowed his wife to appear in riding breeches, after depriving Mohammed's caliph of temporal and religious power, Mustapha Kemal is now raising money to build a huge statue to himself.

The Mohammed religion absolutely forbids any kind of graven image of a human being. When the Turks captured Constantinople, and changed the magnificent church of St. Sophia into a mosque, they took a way all the statues of saints, and covered up all the sacred pictures on the walls.

Mr. Borglum, who will probably make the statue, ought to show Mustapha Kemal with a crowbar, opening the doors of the harem and saying, "Come on out."

CLEMENCEAU IS 83

Georges Clemenceau celebrated his eighty-third birthday yesterday in his little house on the French coast, looking out on the wild waters where ancient Basques used to catch whales.

Clemenceau's health is good, because he is wise. A fighter all his life, he avoids all controversy now. Anger poisons men always, and in old age kills them.

Picking a rose in his garden, he says: "Like flowers; they have an advantage over men, they are silent."

Typhus is raging in Leingrad, formerly St. Petersburg, 100 new cases a day, and they usually die.

This, added to the recent flood, discourages the Russians. The flood they cannot help, nature sent that.

Typhus, however, could be prevented by cleanliness. All that is necessary is to keep the body free of vermin. As mosquitoes alone carry yellow fever and malaria, so a certain less pleasant creature alone inoculates human beings with typhus. The smallest creatures are deadliest enemies—those invisible to our weak eyes most deadly of all.

WHO'S WHO

MAJOR GENERAL MALIN CRAIG

The retirement of General Willard Holbrook as chief of cavalry of the United States army caused the appointment of Major General Malin Craig to fill the vacant post. General Craig recently returned from service in the Philippines.

The new chief of cavalry was born in St. Joseph, Mo., August 5, 1875. He was graduated from the U. S. Military academy in 1898, was an honor graduate from the infantry and cavalry school in 1904, from the Grand Army Staff college in 1905, and Army War college in 1910.

MAJOR GEN. M. CRAIG

General Craig served through the Spanish-American war from June, 1898, China relief expedition from June to October, 1900, was side-de-camp to Brigadier General Barry in the Philippines 1900-1, to General Bell 1902-4, and was again in the Philippines 1907-9.

On October 5, 1917, he arrived in France and was appointed commander of the 166th brigade infantry, 83rd division 4th army corp, A. E. F., July 20, 1918, remaining in France in various commands until the close of the war, when he returned to the United States and was made director of the General Staff college, Washington, D. C. In 1920-21 General Craif commanded the district of Arizona, and September 1, 1921, was made commander of the cavalry school at Fort Riley, Kansas. He had been made brigadier general of the national army in 1918, and of the regular army April 28, 1921.

France expressed her appreciation of General Craig's services during the World war by decorating him as commander of the Legion of Honor and with the Croix de Guerre with two palms. He was made a Companion of Bath by the British, commander La Couronne by Belgium and Italy bestowed on him the Order of the Crown.

April 29, 1901, General Craig was married to Genevieve Woodruff, of Berkeley, Cal.

DINNER STORIES

Uncle John watched his nephew and some other little boys playing as sodiers, attacking a fort. "Tommy," he said, "if you and your side can take that fort in half an hour I'll give you a quarter."

About two minutes later there came an eager cry: "Uncle, can I have that quarter now. We've taken the fort."

"That was very smart," said Uncle John, as he handed over the coin. "How did you manage it so quickly?"

"Oh, I just offered the other side a dime to give in," answered Tommy.

"Miss Curlycue," murmured the office manager to the stenog, "I don't wanna be harsh. Nothing like that. I really don't."

"Let's have the answer," said the damsel nonchalantly. "What's gone wrong now?"

"I just wanna ask you not to write your young man during business hours. Letters are apt to get mixed. Herb & Blurb report we have sent 'em a shipment of love and kisses instead of the axle grease they ordered."

The way things look now at Washington, Walter Johnson might be elected president on a baseball ticket.

Popular Pennant Winner

Every baseball fan in the nation's capital, from President Calvin Coolidge down to the office boy whose grandmother died at least once during the 1924 season, is happy today, for Washington is the American league entry in the world's series against the New York Giants, victor in four successive National League races.

Seldom, if ever, has there been such general rejoicing over the victory of a major league baseball team as marked the Senators' defeat of the Boston Red Sox in Monday's battle, thus clinching their right to the flag in Ban Johnson's circuit. The game gave the club representing the capital its first opportunity to compete in the baseball classic after a 23-year struggle.

Unmindful of an incessant rain, hundreds watched a mechanical scoreboard in front of a Washington newspaper office depict the story of the victory that meant so much for the boy-manager, Stanley Harris, the youngest major league team pilot to win a pennant and earn the privilege of battling for the highest honor of the national pastime. Social proprieties were completely forgotten. Men slapped utter strangers on the back, and hugged the person standing next to them, regardless of whether it was a man or a woman, when the end of the game showed Washington the winner. The White House, through C. Bascom Slemp, secretary to the president, wired congratulations and then the city made preparations to welcome their returning heroes upon their arrival home on Tuesday.

There were two reasons for the intense interest in the struggle of the Washington team—Walter Johnson and Manager Harris. Fans were plugging for Johnson, famous pitching ace, because he will take part in his first world series after 18 years in the big league. And they were hoping and praying for Harris because of the great burden borne on the shoulders of a youth, for Harris, who is only 28 years of age, has accomplished wonders where men of mature years, experienced in hectic pennant battles, had failed. And now both Johnson and Harris are so popular in Washington that they would have no difficulty in winning places on a baseball ticket in a presidential race.

Perhaps the greatest factor in winning supporters for the Washington team was the universal desire of baseball lovers to break the New York monopoly on the world series. And the fact that one New York club was deprived of the honor of participating in its fourth classic was cheerful news to millions of fans who realize the likelihood of interest in the series ebbing in the event it becomes an intra-city clash.

And now fans anxiously await the first of the title games. Eyes will turn toward Washington next Saturday, when Manager John J. McGraw's cohorts invade the capital. And irrespective of their judgment of the ability of the competing clubs, most baseball followers will root for the boy manager and his athletes.

The United States is divided into 37 recruiting districts, each covered by a recruiting officer, medical officer and force of recruiting men. The recruiting service is highly organized. The men are taught the principles of salesmanship, treating the navy as a commodity which they are to sell to the public. They are graded on the results, counting enlistments as sales.

The quality of the men enlisted is insured by medical examination at the recruiting station and by use of reference forms from previous employers. The standards required reduce the number of acceptances to 35 per cent of the applications. This number is further reduced at the training station, where more careful medical examination may reveal physical defects not discovered at the recruiting office.

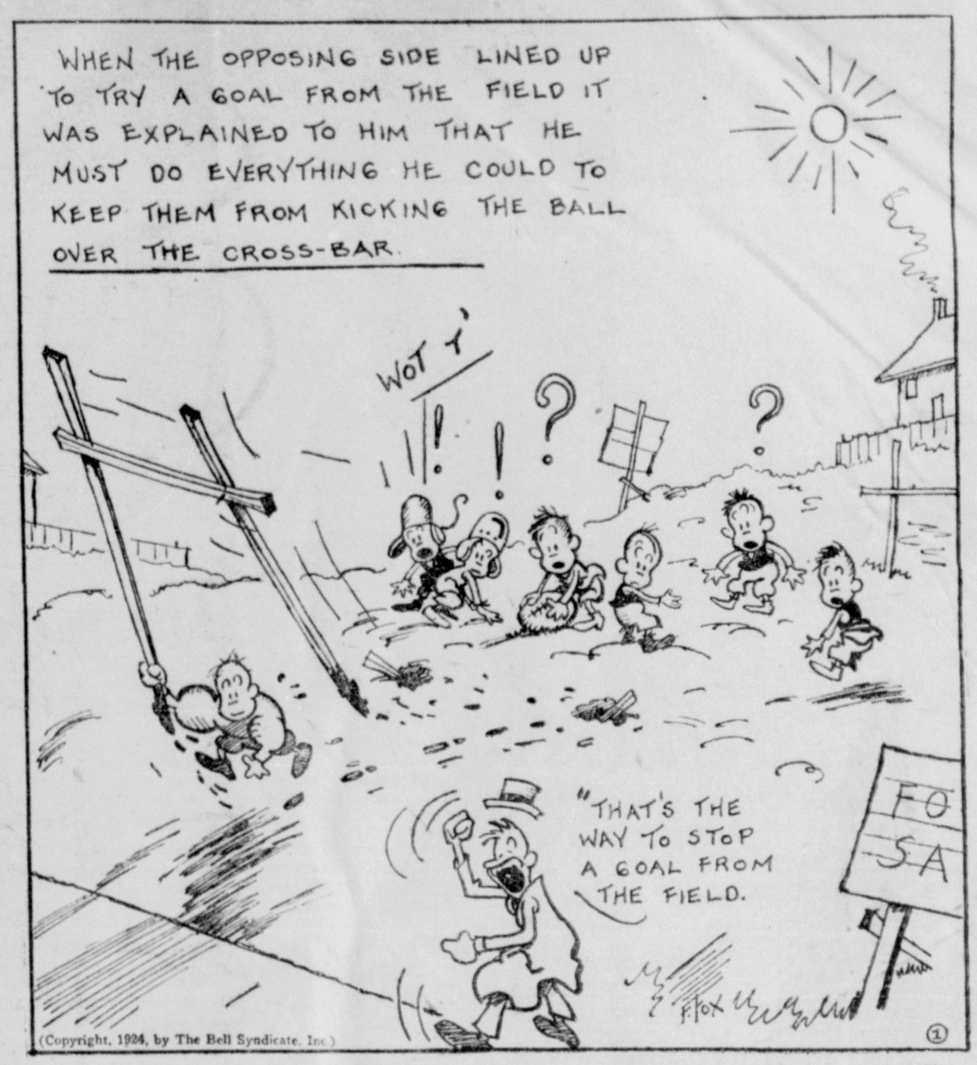

THE ALMOST INVINCIBLE ZEP

Nothing was so strikingly demonstrated during the late war as the supremacy of the heavy fighting ship. The airplane and the Zeppelin, with their novel and sensational methods of attack, drew much attention, but not a single capital ship was injured by bombs from the air. In fact, no airplane or dirigible ever attempted to get near enough to one to deliver a telling blow. The weakness of the ship of the air as a fighting instrument is its short radius of action and inability to operate in bad weather.

During the World war, the submarine also attracted great attention through its sensational use by the Germans. A careful search of the records, however, reveals that not a single capital ship of the British grand fleet was sunk by a submarine. British and French fleets operated constantly in waters infested with submarines, but while the commercial fleets of the allies were reduced almost to extinction, not a single one of the great ships of the line was damaged.

The submarine, although a valuable auxiliary has two weak points in its blindness and vulnerability to an explosive depth charge. One entirely submerged, the submarine cannot see to fire a shot or even to set a course to intercept the enemy without projecting its periscope above the surface. Battleships are accompanied by fleets of destroyers and scouts equipped with listening devices of the microphone variety more sensitive than the stethoscope by which the doctor listens to the workings of a suspected heart. Listeners stationed at these electrical cars can tell instantly when a submarine comes within a radius of several miles.

The Powerful Katrinka's Little Brother— BY Fontaine Fox

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

By ETHEL MARSHALL

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The "little season" is under way, and English and American society is flocking back to town from Scotland, where the season has been rather unsatisfactory. So poor has the shooting been that J. R. Steers, of Washington, who leased historic Glenkindle Lodge from Lord Burgh, estimates that every bag cost him $100 a brace.

Queen Alexandra has decided not to appoint a new comptroller for her household, in place of Sir Dighton Probyn, whose death occurred recently. The duties of that office will be combined with those of her private secretary, Sir Hugh Streatfield.

This decision by the queen mother is in accord with the policy recently adopted by the British royal family in reducing expenditures wherever possible in order to meet the demands made upon their households by increasing social obligations.

London society's latest fad is ice skating, and the fad threatens to rival dancing. It is only about once in ten years that England has an opportunity to indulge in skating on ice frozen under natural conditions. Usually England has to journey to far-off Switzerland, but now Gordon Selfridge, the Anglo-American merchant prince, has had an artificial ice rink built upon the roof of his store and it is greatly enjoyed by society, and it is being suggested that another rink be built upon the roof of the Savoy hotel.

Miss Grace Vanderbilt has arrived at Claridge's from San Sebastian, where, with her parents, she terminated a cruise in the yacht Atlantic.

Frocks, and particularly dance frocks, are getting shorter and shorter. The majority of them end about two inches below the knee, though in some cases the effect is slightly mitigated by an uneven hemline. Miss Dene Goriet, a pretty American debutante recently presented at court, introduced a new variation by appearing in the fashionable Berkeley restaurant with a gown having a hemline with a distinct slant from right to left.

England is making progress. For years no self-respecting English woman has dreamed of wearing any clothes but those made for her by the best modistes. Ready-to-wear clothes were considered altogether too hideous for consideration, and they were. Now the ice has been broken and one of the best known modistes, with shops in Paris and London, has installed ready-to-wear clothes for fashionable people and his success has been instantaneous.

Why do women select certain clothes? Queen Maria of Rumania is having three dresses made by a London dressmaker, simply because she thinks the designs "regal."

The queen entered the shop of this fashionable modiste and asked to see some original designs. Three models were paraded before her and she murmured: "I must have them because they are so regal, and becoming a queen."

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Columbus Circle is a sort of open forum for malcontents, like that of London's Hyde Park. Nightly there are people who address street crowds from automobiles, portable platforms and soap boxes.

Some are religious zealots, with long hair and bare feet. Others sing praise of single tax, various isms, and other distinctive and disparaging doctrines. Their talks are morbid and gay. One Japanese jingoist declares we will be at war by mid-winter.

The orators come from every walk in life. There are grocery clerks, small tradesmen, college professors, students, actors and one is a husky truck driver. They rarely take up collections, and the main idea is simply to "blow off steam."

The police are on hand, but are tolerant, and only observe the traffic violations. One man who was growing red-faced in his exhorting, pleaded for the world to take up vegetarianism. "I used to be a chronic dyspeptic," he shouted. "Now I can lick any man in the crowd."

His challenge was not accepted. A man in clerical costume talked on the "Psychology of Fear." He said there wasn't a man or woman living who couldn't walk into a den of lions if he or she had absolutely mastered fear.

A woman from the tail of a banjo-torched cart spoke for "Birth Control." She wore a jaunty red hat and was becomingly costumed. She could not have been more than 23 years old. "I have left high society," she said, "to go out on the highways and plead this cause."

The open forum usually opens at dusk and at midnight they are still at it, and at the later hour they have their biggest audiences, for the catch the homegoing theatrical crowds. Most of the oratory is mere fiddle-faddle, but all seem tremendously sincere and earnest.

New York streets can be filled and emptied with amazing speed. In a jewelry shop across from the Hippodrome a young bandit was holding up the proprietor who lifted his voice for "Help!" above the racket of the elevated. In two minutes the streets and sidewalks were a compact mass of humanity. All traffic suspended. Then someone from a window cried: "Look out he's going to fire a gun!" and just as quickly the sidewalks and streets emptied. Speaking for myself, I made the basement entrance of a department store in nothing flat.

"What can I show you?" asked a floorwalker, who evidently did not sense my alarm.

"The smelling salts department," I replied. And gravely he piloted me to the drug counter.

Whoops, my dear! And if I'd known you were coming I'd have baked a whortleberry pie. New York is to have a male mannequin show. The idea was first introduced in London, where there was a parade to and fro of men in the latest sartorial splendor. The show will be held in one of the private rooms of a smart hotel. Admittance will be only by special invitation.

A sheet music salesman in a Broadway store was taken to a hospital the other day with nervous exhaustion. He said his nerves had been frazzled by customers coming to him to buy songs, and then asking him: "Would you mind humming this tune for me, please?"

There is one music store in the Times Square district, however, that has eight piano players, ready at all times to play tunes that are wanted. They are paid $50 a week.

Some people never miss an opportunity for contradiction. Which fact recalls the story of the woman who was traveling through "Wild Wales."

"My, ain't the mountains high!" exclaimed a fellow passenger.

The contradictory one looked out of the window to see the summits of the lofty hills, and sniffed:

"Only the tops of them is," she protested.

No, this traffic problem will never be solved until pedestrians are equipped with standardized lights, bumpers and "stop" signs.

There is much to be said for the Chinese method of warfare. Hardly anybody gets killed, and business proceeds almost the same as usual.

TODAY

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

IF MONKEYS USED FIRE

Lloyd George warns the world "China is awakening," and her knowledge of flying machines, explosives, poison gas and their possibilities is a danger to the world's civilization.

It will be had for the world when the Chinese discover that, instead of dropping girl babies into the river to keep down population, they could drop bombs on western peoples and take their land.

Lloyd George says: "The Chinese took thousands of years to ascend to philosophic serenity; it has not taken them long to decsend to the level of superior races, whose highest court of appeal is abided over by death."

Human beings rule the world and find it worth living on, because, with all their intelligence, monkeys never learned to make a fire or keep one going. Scientists tell you that if monkeys had understood control of fire they would have burned off all the forests ages before man arrived. Chinese, learning the use of TNT and poison gas, may be worse for our civilization that fire-using monkeys would have been to the world in general.

RACE HORSES AND RADIO

Colonel Green, son of the late well-known, very rich Hetty Green, of New York, is spending his great fortune on investigation of radio possibilities, building laboratories, making experiments with the help of experienced scientists.

That's better than spending your inherited money to build up a racing stable, and bringing up your own children to be a little more worthless than you yourself are.

INSULTING MOHAMMED

Mustapha Kemal, new boss of the Turks, offers to his celestial boss, Mohammed, the last final deadly insult, having uncovered the faces of women, and allowed his wife to appear in riding breeches, after depriving Mohammed's caliph of temporal and religious power, Mustapha Kemal is now raising money to build a huge statue to himself.

The Mohammed religion absolutely forbids any kind of graven image of a human being. When the Turks captured Constantinople, and changed the magnificent church of St. Sophia into a mosque, they took a way all the statues of saints, and covered up all the sacred pictures on the walls.

Mr. Borglum, who will probably make the statue, ought to show Mustapha Kemal with a crowbar, opening the doors of the harem and saying, "Come on out."

CLEMENCEAU IS 83

Georges Clemenceau celebrated his eighty-third birthday yesterday in his little house on the French coast, looking out on the wild waters where ancient Basques used to catch whales.

Clemenceau's health is good, because he is wise. A fighter all his life, he avoids all controversy now. Anger poisons men always, and in old age kills them.

Picking a rose in his garden, he says: "Like flowers; they have an advantage over men, they are silent."

Typhus is raging in Leingrad, formerly St. Petersburg, 100 new cases a day, and they usually die.

This, added to the recent flood, discourages the Russians. The flood they cannot help, nature sent that.

Typhus, however, could be prevented by cleanliness. All that is necessary is to keep the body free of vermin. As mosquitoes alone carry yellow fever and malaria, so a certain less pleasant creature alone inoculates human beings with typhus. The smallest creatures are deadliest enemies—those invisible to our weak eyes most deadly of all.

WHO'S WHO

MAJOR GENERAL MALIN CRAIG

The retirement of General Willard Holbrook as chief of cavalry of the United States army caused the appointment of Major General Malin Craig to fill the vacant post. General Craig recently returned from service in the Philippines.

The new chief of cavalry was born in St. Joseph, Mo., August 5, 1875. He was graduated from the U. S. Military academy in 1898, was an honor graduate from the infantry and cavalry school in 1904, from the Grand Army Staff college in 1905, and Army War college in 1910.

MAJOR GEN. M. CRAIG.

General Craig served through the Spanish-American war from June, 1898, China relief expedition from June to October, 1900, was aide-de-camp to Brigadier General Barry in the Philippines 1900-1, to General Bell 1902-4, and was again in the Philippines 1907-9.

On October 5, 1917, he arrived in France and was appointed commander of the 166th brigade infantry, 83rd division 4th army corp, A. E. F., July 20, 1918, remaining in France in various commands until the close of the war, when he returned to the United States and was made director of the General Staff college, Washington, D. C. In 1920-21 General Craig commanded the district of Arizona, and September 1, 1921, was made commander of the cavalry school at Fort Riley, Kansas. He had been made brigadier general of the national army in 1918, and of the regular army April 28, 1921.

France expressed her appreciation of General Craig's services during the World war by decorating him as commander of the Legion of Honor and with the Croix de Guerre with two palms. He was made a Companion of Bath by the British, commander La Couronne by Belgium and Italy bestowed on him the Order of the Crown.

April 29, 1901, General Craig was married to Genevieve Woodruff, of Berkeley, Cal.

DINNER STORIES

Uncle John watched his nephew and some other little boys playing as sodiers, attacking a fort. "Tommy," he said, "if you and your side can take that fort in half an hour I'll give you a quarter."

About two minutes later there came an eager cry: "Uncle, can I have that quarter now. We've taken the fort."

"That was very smart," said Uncle John, as he handed over the coin. "How did you manage it so quickly?"

"Oh, I just offered the other side a dime to give in," answered Tommy.

"Miss Curlycue," murmured the office manager to the steno, "I don't wanna be harsh. Nothing like that. I really don't, "

"Let's have the answer," said the damsel nonchalantly. "What's gone wrong now?"

"I just wanna ask you not to write your young man during business hours. Letters are apt to get mixed. Herb & Blurb report we have sent 'em a shipment of love and kisses instead of the axle grease they ordered."

The way things look now at Washington, Walter Johnson might be elected president on a baseball ticket.

WORK RUSHED ON TABERNACLE FOR REVIVALS

Speed Plans for Dr. W. E. Biederwolf's Campaign.

WOMEN WILL AID

Volunteers Will do Their Bit Friday and Saturday.

Despite the continued rain of the past few days several sections of the framework of the huge tabernacle which is being built for the Dr. W. E. Biederwolf revival which will begin next month were placed in position on Tuesday afternoon.

Other sections will be added on Wednesday and Thursday. All will be in readiness, weather permitting for the combined labor of churchmen who contribute their aid in erecting the structure.

Men, armed with hatchets and hammers, will in this interim put the building well along towards completion. Every effort from this on will be made to hurry its completion.

Organizing Choir.

Women have begun their part in the construction by arranging for the making and serving of lunches to the workmen during the final two days of the week.

Mr. Heaton, advance representative of Dr. Biederwolf, in addition to directing the erection of the tabernacle, is preparing for the coming of the evangelistic party here, the organization of the choir over 500 voices and the selection of the 80 or more male ushers that are to be used with a force of 100 lady personal workers.

To further these preparations he will hold three committee meetings during the remainder of the week as follows.

The entertainment committee, composed of Rev. L. J. Davison, Miss Florence Updegraff, Mrs. Will J. Taylor and Mrs. Harvey McHenry will meet on Wednesday evening at 8:45 o'clock. This hour is set to as not to conflict with the usual prayer services of that evening.

The music committee will meet on Thursday evening and the usher committee on Friday evening. Both of these gatherings will be at 7:30 o'clock.

KIDNEYS NEED LOTS OF WATER AT TIMES

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble. While it is only trouble, by all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

Ship's Crews Saved

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 1—Two vessels, victims of the gale that swept up from the Florida Peninsula, probably have sunk off the North Carolina Coast, according to reports received here today.

One, the Norwegian steamer Ringborg 2675 gross tons, abandoned by her crew, 20 miles off the Flying Pan Gas Buoy, was enroute for Cuba from New York. Her crew is safe aboard the Norwegian steamer Enare, bound for Charleston.

The fourmasted wooden schooner Perry Setzer, of Bridgeport, Conn., 1392 tons gross, was also abandoned by her crew off Beaufort, N. C., and the men taken ashore in a heavy sea by life savers. They were landed at Fort Macon.

Rivers Rise at Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1. — After 60 hours of intermittent rain in this district, a flood stage of 22 feet is expected in local rivers by this afternoon. The rivers were rising slowly this morning.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 1. — The Mohawk river, swollen four feet by the hard rains of the last 48 hours, was a raging torrent today. Employes in some of the General Electic company's shops were forced to take to row boats to reach their work.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 1.—Northern New York and the Adirondack region have been hit hard by flood conditions, caused by heavy rains, according to reports received at the weather bureau here today.

Virtually every river and mountain stream was at flood stage.

The state road at Wilmington Notch, near Lake Placid, was reported under four feet of water.

Two bridges over the Cascade river, four miles from Lake Placid, were swept away.

The Ausable river, near Ausable Forks, left its banks and flooded the country in every direction.

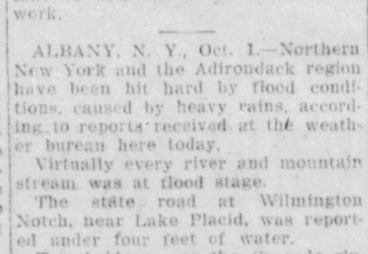

Delaware River Rising

BELVIDERE, N. J., Oct. 1—The Delaware River was 15 feet higher than normal at many points today and was still rising, despite cessation of the heavy rainfall of the last two days. The river was strewn with debris, lumber, tree trunks and shattered smallboats.

Two Hurt in Auto Wreck.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 1.—Miss Celia Frysell, and Samuel Shipley were in a hospital here today, suffering from injuries received late last night when the auto in which they were riding was struck by an A. B. C. line interurban car and pushed over a 50-foot embankment. Miss Frysell sustained a broken collar bone and two broken ribs. Shipley was badly bruised.

LA FOLLETTE IS DENOUNCED

Chicago Speaker Terms Him "Nation's Greatest Liability."

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Senator Robert M. LaFollette and his progressive platform came in for bitter denunciation again today at the second general session of the fiftieth annual convention of the American Bankers' association here.

The Wisconsin senator himself was characterized as "the nation's greatest liability," by John E. Edgerton, president of the National Association of Manufacturers.

C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central Railroad company, scored his policies and all others contemplating federal control and operation of the nation's basic industries.

These two were the principal speakers at today's session at which a major portion of the time was given over to hearing the report of the nominating committee, appointed yesterday, and the election of officers.

Edgerton hailed the progressive standard bearer as an "arch demagogue" who is kept in power by the "spontaneous responsiveness of the egotistic in human nature."

Markham's address was in the same vein. He declared that the railroads would be found in the first line of defense against "those who would make this country a second Russia."

Bishop Du Moulin, Cleveland, Resigns Episcopal Place

Rt. Rev. Frank DuMoulin, of Cleveland, bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal diocese of Ohio, who visited East Liverpool early this year, has forwarded his resignation to the house of bishops, it was announced Wednesday. The resignation will be considered at a meeting of the bishops to be held at New York next week.

Ill health, requiring a complete rest and release from all work and responsibilities, prompted Bishop Du Moulin's resignation. He has been under hospital treatment in Cleveland for several weeks and, on leaving the hospital, was advised to give up participation in church affairs.

Action on the resignation will be required by the convention of the diocese of Ohio which will hold its annual meeting in January, as well as by the house of bishops which convenes next week.

Dr. Du Moulin was consecrated a bishop in Cleveland about 10 years ago. He had administration in the parishes in 40 of the 44 counties included in the diocese of Ohio. He has been maintaining his home in Gambier, the seat of Kenyon College, and in Cleveland.

Pottsville, Pa., Man Is Shot to Death By 17-year-old Son

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 1. — Shot three times by his 17-year-old son in their home at Port Carbon, near here, August DeWitt, a plumber, died at the Pottsville hospital today. William DeWitt, who did the shooting, is being held in the county jail pending investigation.

The boy is alleged to have opened fire when his father came home intoxicated and made threats against his wife and daughter. DeWitt was one of the best known citizens of Port Carbon. He died before District Attorney Spalero could get a statement from him.

William is a student at the local high school.

Denies He Fired at Raiders.

He told of his sensational escape from the police when they attempted to arrest him on July 11. He declared that he was working in a garden when three police officers approached. He said that the men fired at him and he fled, denying that he had returned the fire. An hour later when he returned to his home he declares he found the windows in the house shattered and his tent, pitched near the house, cut into shreds by the raiding party. It was while eating dinner on July 23 that the officers suddenly appeared at the door and arrested him. Since then he has been in jail at Beaver awaiting trial.

Chief of Police McDermott of this city, Chief Crepps of the Midland police force, and other officers who made frequent attempts to apprehend Miller, were among the witnesses called by the prosecution. He was represented by Attorney Charles H. Stone, while Assistant District Attorney Ralph K. Smith of Beaver, formerly of East Liverpool, prosecuted the case.

Jack Ekart, who was apprehended in a raid on the state line district a few weeks ago, was also convicted on an indictment charging him with possessing, manufacturing and selling liquor. A motion for a new trial has been made and until this is decided, sentence has been deferred.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

By W. S. Cousins.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Shorts in the stock market were driven to cover by bullish pools in the early trading on the stock market today. In distinct contrast to the reactionary trend which has prevailed in the market since Saturday, the industrial stocks jumped to heigher levels at the opening and followed this with a steady advance which carried some of the market leaders two or three points above yesterday's level. The best records in this period were made by stocks which had been under bearish pressure since Monday morning. Amn. Can at 130⅞, showed a gain of 3¼ points from yesterday's low.

The extraordinary report of car loadings for the week of Sept. 20 by the American Railway association, showing total loadings of 1,076,553 cars, the greatest number for any week in 1924, and only slightly below the greatest number in the history of American railroading was the most important outside factor affecting the stock market. Many railroad companies were reported as placing heavy orders for New equipment. The crude oil production was more favorable, the Oil City Derrick showing a decline of 25,586 barrels daily last week, but additional cuts in gasoline prices were announced today by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

High priced equipment stocks were the most prominent ground-gainers in the first two hours today. Accompanying American Can on the forward move were Railway Steel Springs, up four points at 132½! Baldwin up 1 at 123; United States Steel up 1 at 109¼. Savage Arms up 2½ at 65; Cast Iron Pipe at 116 up 4 points from yesterday's low.

J. W. Davis Visits Baltimore; Ritchie Meets Candidate

ABOARD DAVIS SPECIAL EN-ROUTE TO FREDERICK, MD., BALTIMORE, Oct. 1.—Promising to renew his attack upon the "coated silence" of President Coolidge in his speech at Frederick, Md., this afternoon, John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate, stopped for breakfast in Baltimore and received warm reception.

Davis was met at the station by Maryland's Democratic leaders, including Governor Albert C. Ritchie, who predicted that the candidate would sweep the state "by the biggest plurality ever in the state's history."

Mayor Howard Jackson, of Baltimore, and Frank Kelly, Democratic state boss, also were in the official welcoming party for Davis.

Davis was cheered up considerably today by the letter of Senator Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, to Wm. M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee, asking for the immediate resignation of Charles G. Dawes, as Republican vice presidential candidate.

Charles Evan Hughes Opens Ohio G. O. P. Drive on Saturday

COLUMBUS, Oct. 1—Charles Evan Hughes, secretary of state in President Coolidge's cabinet, will officially open the Republican national campaign in Ohio at a meeting to be held in the Emery Hall at Cincinnati next Saturday evening, it was announced Tuesday by Don V. Parker, chairman of the speakers' bureau, Republican state campaign headquarters.

Immediately upon receipt of word that Secretary Hughes desired to speak in Ohio on that date, Harry L. Davis, Republican candidate for governor, cancelled arrangements previously made for a meeting at Lima Saturday evening. Mr. Davis will greet Mr. Hughes on his arrival in Cincinnati and will introduce the premier of the cabinet at the evening meeting, which is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

Cuban Sugar Mill Workers Threaten To Call Walkout

HAVANA, Cuba, Oct. 1.—A general strike of sugar mill workers which threatens to become sympathetic and halt the machinery of all Cuban industries, loomed today as labor leaders of the sugar mill workers' union started a movement to keep all laborers from reporting to work when the mills open unless "radical increases in pay and shorter hours" are granted by employers.

The general strike, they said, will be called at the opening of "Zafra," the time for sugar mills to begin operation a few weeks hence.

DAWES WILL ANSWER ATTACK

Vice-Presidential Candidate Will Reply to Brookhart.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1—A reply to Senator Smith W. Brookhart's demand for his resignation as Republican vice Presidential candidate, probably will be made by General Charles G. Dawes in his address at Kansas City tomorrow night, the nominee indicated here today.

He refused to discuss the Brookhart letter today except to say: "Anything which I may have to say, will be said from the platform."

General Dawes will leave Chicago tonight for a three day's speaking tour of Iowa, Missouri and Indiana, during which he will make seven 10 minute addresses from the rear platform of his special train.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1—Senator Smith W. Brookhart's spectacular bolt from the Republican Reservation with a "demand" that the Republican managers remove General Charles G. Dawes from the ticket caused something very nearly approaching a political sensation in the capital today.

Norris Denies Rumors.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 1—Following Senator Smith W. Brookhart's startling denunciation of General Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice presidential nominee, B. B. Burnquist, chairman of the Ohio state Republican committee, had called a meeting of the state committee tomorrow. At this meeting, steps may be taken to censure Brookhart.

McCOOK, Neb., Oct. 1. — United State Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, today refused to comment upon the declaration of Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa against Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice presidential candidate.

Norris said that rumors of his intention to come out later for Senator La Follette were without foundation.

Two Young Negroes Confess Hold-up And Brutal Murder

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Oct. 1—Two young negroes, Lawson Jenkins, 18, and Willie Conway, 20 were in jail here today, removed from possible mob violence at Quantico, following Jenkins' confession that they held up and murdered Lester J. Stevens, a garage owner, Monday. The crime has aroused the country side and the prisoners were ushered here for safekeeping.

Robbery was the motive of the crime, according to the confession. They stopped Stevens near the Richmond-Washington pike and when he opened the door of his car Jenkins shot him twice through the heart. They took $160 from the body and overlooked $750 in another pocket. Jenkins' suddenly acquired "roll" directed suspicion at him around the little town of Quantico, and he later confessed, implicating Conway.

RESINOL

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about $2. Easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

WORK RUSHED ON TABERNACLE FOR REVIVALS

Speed Plans for Dr. W. E. Biederwolf's Campaign.

WOMEN WILL AID

Volunteers Will do Their Bit Friday and Saturday.

Despite the continued rain of the past few days several sections of the framework of the huge tabernacle which is being built for the Dr. W. E. Biederwolf revival which will begin next month were placed in position on Tuesday afternoon.

Other sections will be added on Wednesday and Thursday. All will be in readiness, weather permitting for the combined labor of churchmen who contribute their aid in erecting the structure.

Men, armed with hatchets and hammers, will in this interim put the building well along towards completion. Every effort from this on will be made to hurry its completion.

Organizing Choir.

Women have begun their part in the construction by arranging for the making and serving of lunches to the workmen during the final two days of the week.

Mr. Heaton, advance representative of Dr. Biederwolf, in addition to directing the erection of the tabernacle, is preparing for the coming of the evangelistic party here, the organization of the choir over 500 voices and the selection of the 80 or more male ushers that are to be used with a force of 160 lady personal workers.

To further these preparations he will hold three committee meetings during the remainder of the week as follows.

The entertainment committee, composed of Rev. L. J. Davison, Miss Florence Updegraff, Mrs. Will J. Taylor and Mrs. Harvey McHenry will meet on Wednesday evening at 8:45 o'clock. This hour is set to as not to conflict with the usual prayer services of that evening.

The music committee will meet on Thursday evening and the usher committee on Friday evening. Both of these gatherings will be at 7:30 o'clock.

KIDNEYS NEED LOTS OF WATER AT TIMES

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble. While it is only trouble, by all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

One, the Norwegian steamer Ringborg 2675 gross tons, abandoned by her crew, 20 miles off the Flying Pan Gas Buoy, was enroute for Cuba from New York. Her crew is safe aboard the Norwegian steamer Enare, bound for Charleston.

The fourmasted wooden schooner Perry Setzer, of Bridgeport, Conn., 1332 tons gross, was also abandoned by her crew off Beaufort, N. C., and the men taken ashore in a heavy sea by life savers. They were landed at Fort Macon.

Rivers Rise at Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1. — After 60 hours of intermittent rain in this district, a flood stage of 22 feet is expected in local rivers by this afternoon. The rivers were rising slowly this morning.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 1. — The Mohawk river, swollen four feet by the hard rains of the last 48 hours, was a raging torrent today. Employes in some of the General Electric company's shops were forced to take to row boats to reach their work.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 1.—Northern New York and the Adirondack region have been hit hard by flood conditions, caused by heavy rains, according to reports received at the weather bureau here today.

Virtually every river and mountain stream was at flood stage.

The state road at Wilmington Notch, near Lake Placid, was reported under four feet of water.

Two bridges over the Cascade river, four miles from Lake Placid, were swept away.

The Ausable river, near Ausable Forks, left its banks and flooded the country in every direction.

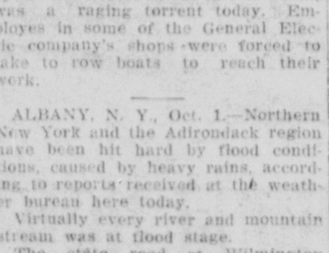

Delaware River Rising

LA FOLLETTE IS DENOUNCED

Chicago Speaker Terms Him "Nation's Greatest Liability."

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Senator Robert M. LaFollette and his progressive platform came in for bitter denunciation again today at the second general session of the fiftieth annual convention of the American Bankers' association here.

The Wisconsin senator himself was characterized as "the nation's greatest liability," by John E. Edgerton, president of the National Association of Manufacturers.

C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central Railroad company, scored his policies and all others contemplating federal control and operation of the nation's basic industries.

These two were the principal speakers at today's session at which a major portion of the time was given over to hearing the report of the nominating committee, appointed yesterday, and the election of officers.

Edgerton hailed the progressive standard bearer as an "arch demagogue" who is kept in power by the "spontaneous responsiveness of the egotistic in human nature."

Markham's address was in the same vein. He declared that the railroads would be found in the first line of defense against "those who would make this country a second Russia."

Bishop Du Moulin, Cleveland, Resigns Episcopal Place

Rt. Rev. Frank DuMoulin, of Cleveland, bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal diocese of Ohio, who visited East Liverpool early this year, has forwarded his resignation to the house of bishops, it was announced Wednesday. The resignation will be considered at a meeting of the bishops to be held at New York next week.

ill health, requiring a complete rest and release from all work and responsibilities, prompted Bishop Du Moulin's resignation. He has been under hospital treatment in Cleveland for several weeks and, on leaving the hospital, was advised to give up participation in church affairs.

Action on the resignation will be required by the convention of the diocese of Ohio which will hold its annual meeting in January, as well as by the house of bishops which convenes next week.

Dr. Du Moulin was consecrated a bishop in Cleveland about 10 years ago. He had administration in the parishes in 40 of the 44 counties included in the diocese of Ohio. He has been maintaining his home in Gambier, the seat of Kenyon College, and in Cleveland.

Pottsville, Pa., Man Is Shot to Death By 17-year-old Son

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 1. — Shot three times by his 17-year-old son in their home at Port Carbon, near here, August DeWitt, a plumber, died at the Pottsville hospital today. William DeWitt, who did the shooting, is being held in the county jail pending investigation.

The boy is alleged to have opened fire when his father came home intoxicated and made threats against his wife and daughter. DeWitt was one of the best known citizens of Port Carbon. He died before District Attorney Spalero could get a statement from him.

William is a student at the local high school.

Denies He Fired at Raiders.

He told of his sensational escape from the police when they attempted to arrest him on July 11. He declared that he was working in a garden when three police officers approached. He said that the men fired at him and he fled, denying that he had returned the fire. An hour later when he returned to his home he declares he found the windows in the house shattered and his tent, pitched near the house, cut into shreds by the raiding party. It was while eating dinner on July 23 that the officers suddenly appeared at the door and arrested him. Since then he has been in jail at Beaver awaiting trial.

Chief of Police McDermott of this city, Chief Crepps of the Midland police force, and other officers who made frequent attempts to apprehend Miller, were among the witnesses called by the prosecution. He was represented by Attorney Charles H. Stone, while Assistant District Attorney Ralph K. Smith of Beaver, formerly of East Liverpool, prosecuted the case.

Jack Ekart, who was apprehended in a raid on the state line district a few weeks ago, was also convicted on an indictment charging him with possessing, manufacturing and selling liquor. A motion for a new trial has been made and until this is decided, sentence has been deferred.

J. W. Davis Visits Baltimore; Ritchie Meets Candidate

ABOARD DAVIS SPECIAL ENROUTE TO FREDERICK, MD., BALTIMORE, Oct. 1.—Promising to renew his attack upon the "coated silence" of President Coolidge in his speech at Frederick, Md., this afternoon, John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate, stopped for breakfast in Baltimore and received warm reception.

Davis was met at the station by Maryland's Democratic leaders, including Governor Albert C. Ritchie, who predicted that the candidate would sweep the state "by the biggest plurality ever in the state's history."

Mayor Howard Jackson, of Baltimore, and Frank Kelly, Democratic state boss, also were in the official welcoming party for Davis.

Davis was cheered up considerably today by the letter of Senator Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, to Wm. M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee, asking for the immediate resignation of Charles G. Dawes, as Republican vice presidential candidate.

Charles Evan Hughes Opens Ohio G. O. P. Drive on Saturday

COLUMBUS, Oct. 1—Charles Evan Hughes, secretary of state in President Coolidge's cabinet, will officially open the Republican national campaign in Ohio at a meeting to be held in the Emery Hall at Cincinnati next Saturday evening, it was announced Tuesday by Don V. Parker, chairman of the speakers' bureau, Republican state campaign headquarters.

Immediately upon receipt of word that Secretary Hughes desired to speak in Ohio on that date, Harry L. Davis, Republican candidate for governor, cancelled arrangements previously made for a meeting at Lima Saturday evening. Mr. Davis will greet Mr. Hughes on his arrival in Cincinnati and will introduce the premier of the cabinet at the evening meeting, which is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

Cuban Sugar Mill Workers Threaten To Call Walkout

HAVANA, Cuba, Oct. 1.—A general strike of sugar mill workers which threatens to become sympathetic and halt the machinery of all Cuban industries, loomed today as labor leaders of the sugar mill workers' union started a movement to keep all laborers from reporting to work when the mills open unless "radical increases in pay and shorter hours" are granted by employers.

The general strike, they said, will be called at the opening of "Zafra," the time for sugar mills to begin operation a few weeks hence.

DAWES WILL ANSWER ATTACK

Vice-Presidential Candidate Will Reply to Brookhart.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1—A reply to Senator Smith W. Brookhart's demand for his resignation as Republican vice Presidential candidate, probably will be made by General Charles G. Dawes in his address at Kansas City tomorrow night, the nominee indicated here today.

He refused to discuss the Brookhart letter today except to say: "Anything which I may have to say, will be said from the platform."

General Dawes will leave Chicago tonight for a three day's speaking tour of Iowa, Misspiri and Indiana, during which he will make seven 10 minute addresses from the rear platform of his special train.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1—Senator Smith W. Brookhart's spectacular bolt from the Republican Reservation with a "demand" that the Republican managers remove General Charles G. Dawes from the ticket caused something very nearly approaching a political sensation in the capital today.

Norris Denies Rumors.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 1.—Following Senator Smith W. Brookhart's startling denunciation of General Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice presidential nominee, B. B. Burnquist, chairman of the Ohio state Republican committee, had called a meeting of the state committee tomorrow. At this meeting, steps may be taken to censure Brookhart.

McCOOK, Neb., Oct. 1. — United State Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, today refused to comment upon the declaration of Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa against Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice presidential candidate.

Norris said that rumors of his intention to come out later for Senator La Follette were without foundation.

Two Young Negroes Confess Hold-up And Brutal Murder

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Oct. 1—Two young negroes, Lawson Jenkins, 18, and Willie Conway, 20 were in jail here today, removed from possible mob violence at Quantico, following Jenkins' confession that they held up and murdered Lester J. Stevens, a garage owner, Monday. The crime has aroused the country side and the prisoners were ushered here for safekeeping.

Robbery was the motive of the crime, according to the confession. They stopped Stevens near the Richmond-Washington pike and when he opened the door of his car Jenkins shot him twice through the heart. They took $160 from the body and overlooked $790 in another pocket. Jenkins' suddenly acquired "roll" directed suspicion at him around the little town of Quantico, and he later confessed, implicating Conway.

RESINOL

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about $2. Easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Loeb-Leopold Escape From Rope Is Surprise To British

"What do They Have to do in America to Get Death," Asks One Paper.

LONDON.—The United States completely baffles England, and the English will never be able to fathom American public affairs. The wonderment aroused by the Loeb-Leopold murder case is fairly significant of England's amazement at American methods.

No event in the United States in recent time has attracted quite the wide attention that the Loeb-Leopold case attracted in England. English newspapers printed columns and columns of this trial and carried articles to explain it. The legal procedure in the case also drew forth comment, and when the verdict came England was shocked and baffled. Newspapers put out extra editions and scattered "bills" all over the country announcing, "Chicago Murder Verdict Surprise!" Newspaper readers were quick to voice their astonishment.

"Life Imprisonment!" was the headline, and on ever hand one heard expressions of amazement.

"What do they have to do in America to get a death sentence?" was typical of the question the English asked each other.

The question became all absorbing and was even discussed in the "high brow" weekly papers.

"It is presumptuous to set a limit to the development of any art," said the Saturday Review, apologizing because it could not stamp Loeb and Leopold as having achieved the highest climax in "the art of murder."

"There were strong men before Cain, and there will be stronger or even more cunning or more unintelligibly motived after Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold," the Review continues in an ironic vein.

"But for the moment, perhaps for the whole week, the record of these two intelligent young plutocrats stands. Other heights in other lives or times; for the instant, or until our next issue, theirs is the supreme thing in murder for sport. It has, indeed, certain flaws. .. .. .. Yet, take it all in all, the murder of Bibby Franks the thirteen-year-old heir to a fortune comparable to those in prospect for Loeb and Leopold, was as thoughtful and as finished a murder as we, at the present age, can expect even from America. .. ..

"Without exaggerating the risk to the murderers' lives in a country which has only one execution to every eight cases of homicide, Loeb and Leopold may fairly be said to have taken as much as they could without incurring the reproach of indulging in blatant public assassination.

"They have escaped with their lives, and the Judge has escaped with his, which, apparently, was in quite as much danger."

Under English law, Loeb and Leopold could not have escaped the gallows except by successfully establishing insanity. Here, where homicide generally results in execution, the life improisonment of these two youths is not conceivable. England is so baffled that many will still be puzzling about it all in the clubs along Piccadilly, when Loeb and Leopold are old men.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS
BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

TRYING TO DO RIGHT.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a girl for about a year and when we started to go together she did not go with any other fellow, but now she wants to go with other fellows through the week. I have given in to her because I thought she had the right to do as she wished. Do you think that was the right thing to do? There is one fellow I did not consent to because one time when she and some other girl were at a party he and another fellow got drunk and threw eggs all over the porch where the party was and at her home too. She said she could not turn him down if he asked her to go somewhere with him. I told her if I ever saw her with him or heard of her being out with him I was going to stop. Do you think I did the right thing by not giving in to her going with this fellow? Would you advise me to stop if I hear that she was out with him?

TROUBLED BOY BLUE.

Unless you and the girl are engaged I think you were very wise in letting her feel you wanted her to go with other boys when she wished. I think however, that it was a mistake to say you would never have anything more to do with her if she went with the young man who drank. She may try to show her independence and go with him merely to show you she will not let you dictate to her in regard to her friends. It would have been better if you had merely said you hoped she would not go with him because you did not consider him worthy of her. In case she goes with him, tell her you are sorry you tried to interfere in her affairs. If she continues to accept his attentions, let your heart answer your problem.

LOVE IN "THE TEENS."

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl in my teens. Some time ago I met a boy in whom I took great interest. He is an out of town fellow, but as he had been in town I had gone out a great many times with him. The second time that I went out with him he asked me to keep steady company. I told him I thought that I was too young. He writes to me and tells me that he still loves me and wishes that I could be with him all the time. I had been sick in bed and he came all the way to see me. Since he has left everything seems to me like nothing because I love him so dearly. He asked me for my picture and I did not give him any. Would you send him one? Every time he writes he tells me that he loves me and that in two months he is going to come back and get a job so that he can come to see me. Do you think he loves me?

M. R. R.

It is not wise for a girl to give her picture to any and every boy who asks for one, but a case like yours is a little different. Since you love each other and he has asked you for your picture I think it would be all right to give him one the next time you see him or even to send him one. The young man certainly seems to love you. Love in "the teens," however, is not very dependable. Before either your tastes will have undergone many changes and that is why it is unwise to place too much faith in youthful love.

TROUBLED WIFE: You aren't getting anywhere in your effort to make your husband see things from your point of view, and therefore I believe it would be wise for you to put him on his honor and let him do what he considers the right thing. Doubtless he feels he is entirely fair to you and the baby when he comes home sober himself when others have taken too much whiskey. Also if he plays cards moderately he feels that he is not doing anything wrong. He really needs recreation since his business takes most of his time including Sunday, and I would advise you to let him be free to enjoy himself in the ways which give him pleasure and which he believes to be harmless. He will do so anyway and your interference brings about inharmony.

Now He's Going Away

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a man of whom I thought a great deal. I loved him so much nothing else mattered and I made many sacrifices for him, stood a lot of trouble on his account, besides helping him every day to get ahead. He has done many things that hurt my feelings and made me suffer, but I never let him know how much I suffered. I always forgave him and he thought I forgot, but I did not. Because of these little things I am getting indifferent and now when the time comes for him to call I do not care if he comes or not, but I have not reached a point where I could give him up entirely without its hurting a great deal. In a short time he is going away. Do you think it better just to keep on as I have been and wait until he leaves and then forget him, or should I quit now. There is nothing I would not do to make him happy while he never appreciates anything I do and never tries to do anything to make me happy. He never fails to come or to take me places, but he certainly is selfish and unappreciative. Please tell me what you think and what I should do. Why is it that men are always looking for true blue love and when they find it they are not satisfied?

MAYBLE S.

You might do the young man a kindness if you told him frankly why you have grown indifferent to him. He has taken advantage of your patronage and forebarance and he ought to know that such selfishness and lack of consideration of another is bound to bring about disastrous results in the end. I would advise you to tell him right away.

An Unique Case.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: A certain man in my neighbrohood has been my interest in life for a long time, for I like to observe people, and he attracted me. He seemed very disconsolate and gloomy. I observed him closely, going into his home, caring for his year-old daughter while his wife went to dances, theaters, parks, etc. One evening he came home. His wife had been gone all afternoon and hadn't yet returned. He had an important business engagement, so I cooked supper for him. Never in my life before have I seen such gratitude shine from anyone's eyes as his. I soon learned from the neighbors that his wife never did anything for him, and I sure believe it. But now comes my trouble. I fell in love with this henpecked husband, and, although I tried to forget him, it seems impossible. He is now filing suit for divorce and wants me to marry him as soon as he gets it. Shall I, or shall I not? I mean would it look wrong to do so? The reason I need your answer is that I have no mother and I don't believe I can live without him very long.

ACCIDENTIAL LOVE.

If you were really a close observer you would have noticed some time ago, that women don't invade other women's homes to care for their children and their perhaps sulky and disconsolate husbands unless they are nurse maids or make a living doing that sort of thing. You would also have noticed that a man with so gay a wife must surely be gloomy of his own volition. You know nothing about the side of this man he very probably shows his wife. There aren't very many women who just naturally neglect their husbands, and a bit of thoughtlessness on their part often makes a splendid alibi to the self-pitying male who would probably be just as restive in a second marriage as in a first.

Says: New York Women Use Perfect Antiseptic

The newest discovery in the antiseptic line is called Kojene and it is four times as powerful as carbolic acid and much more powerful than bichloride of Mercury, yet in spite of its great germ killing power one can drink it with no ill effects.

Chemists say this discovery means that poisonous antiseptics will be banished from the home where they have long been a menace to life.

Kojene is for sale by Carnahan's drug store, Jesse D. Holloway and all good druggists for 60 cents a bottle with simple directions for use.

MRS. DAVIS RECOVERS STRENGTH

The following statement contained in a letter from Mrs. Alice Davis of Jamestown, N. Y., should bring hope to other women who are in the same condition she was. She says: "I was nervous and weak with pains in my back, no ambition, and utterly discouraged, and could not sit up all the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health and strength so I am now running a rooming house and do all the work." Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is pre-eminently successful in overcoming such troubles and it will pay any suffering woman to try it.

TODAY'S RECIPES.

Creole Omelet — Break eggs in a bowl, adding a tablespoon of cold water for each one. Beat well with Dover beater and add a pinch of baking powder. Add seasonings. Put butter in a frying pan over a low fire and cook until eggs are well set, then fold over and serve hot with Creole sauce. Sauce: Saute finely chopped onions, green peppers, fresh corn and real ripe tomatoes in small amount of butter. Pour over the omelet and garnish with parsley.

Sweet Potatoes, Southern Style — To every cup of boiled mashed sweet potatoes add one-third of a cup of cane syrup, one teaspoon of butter, and cinnamon to taste. Break up bits of marshmallow and stir into mixture. Stir all well and put into a well greased, fairly deep baking pan. Cook in a slow oven until firm and brown on top. It is said that a noted southern general would walk miles for a helping of this.

Iced Box Apples—Core large apples, fill holes with brown sugar and bake until soft. Put on ice. Just before dinner whip half a pint of cream, add brown sugar and vanilla to taste, pile on the apples and return to ice box. Just before serving sprinkle with chopped nuts and top with a cherry.

Staples form a considerable share of the efficient housewife's marketing list. She keeps her pantry shelves well stocked with essentials, for having planned a meal, its preparation must not be hindered by lack of the necessary ingredients. There is no substitute for sugar, butter, milk, salt, flour and baking powder, so you must have these ingredients on hand if you are to provide the family with a nourishing meal. A slate, scratch pad and chalk or pencil to write with are very handy if kept in the kitchen. Jot down on them the staples that are running low, and you will not forget them when you go to the store.

LAUNDRY HINTS

Many stubborn stains which are difficult to rub out, will yield readily to a good boiling in soap powder, a little kerosene and water. This is particularly good for blood stains. Add about two tablespoonfuls of kerosene to a half a pail of water. No rubbing is necessary, and this saves wear upon the fabric. Rinse thoroughly and dry.

When making boiled starch, add a few shavings of paraffine or a little borax with the boiling water. Either method gives an extra stiffness and a desirable finish.

Clothes are whitened if a table spoonful of ammonia and one of turpentine are added to each pail of boiling water. Use the usual amount of soap or soap powder.

Curtains and articles which are dusty are best soaked in plain, lukewarm water and squeezed out before putting through the regular process of washing. This helps to give a better color and to make the washing easier.

A heavy woolen pad covered with clean white material is a great help in ironing laces or embroideries. Iron on the wrong side and the pattern will sink into the soft surface and be especially attractive if carefully pulled out straight before commencing. Press until thoroughly dry.

High Blood Pressure Often Brought On by an Unhealthy Liver

Diseases of heart, kidneys, blood vessels due to body poisons

Medical science knows that poisonous waste in our bodies would actually cause death in a few days if not eliminated by Nature's process. Because it destroys these deadly poisons, the liver is our most important organ—the body's wonderful purifier.

The liver prevents the formation of body poisons that cause diseases of the heart, kidneys, blood vessels and are chiefly responsible for premature old age.

When the liver becomes weak, the poisons are sucked up by the blood and health is broken down. Physicians know that the liver cannot be regulated by drugs, but a safe Nature substance has been discovered which will at once increase the vital bile supply. The discovery is purified ox gall.

Get from your druggist a package of Dioxol. Each tablet contains ten drops of purified ox gall. In 24 hours the poison toxins will be removed. Your liver will be regulated. Blood purification will begin. Sallow skin will clear. You will feel so much better you will know you have found the cause of your ill health. Dioxol tablets are harmless, tasteless and cost less than two cents each.

These genuine ox gall tablets are prepared only under the name "Dioxol." If any tablet is offered you under another name, refuse it. Accept only Dioxol in the original genuine package.

My Skin
Is due to a super-clay

By Edna Wallace Hopper

After 40 years in the limelight—after 35 years as a stage star—I still look a girl of 19. The thousands who see me daily know that, and wonder how this came about.

The chief reason lies in a new-type clay. I started years ago with the old-type clays, crude and muddy, which so many still employ. They brought me amazing results. But I have kept in touch with scientific progress, and in 20 years it has brought me a clay which gives multiplied results.

Today I have what experts call the last word in facial clay. It is white, refined and dainty. And it embodies many new discoveries. Until I obtained this, I never knew one-tenth what clay could do.

Now I am supplying this clay to others. I call it my White Youth Clay. All druggists and toilet counters have it—exactly the clay I use. And I am stating its results to girls who want more beauty and to women who want youth.

My White Youth Clay purges the skin of all that clogs and mars it. It draws out the causes of blackheads and blemishes. It brings the blood to the skin to nourish and revive it. The result if a rosy afterglow which amazes and delights. Many women seem to drop ten years with one application.

It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores. No girl or woman who once enjoys its results will ever go without it.

I want you to know what it does. My good fortune obtained it for me. I was famous as a beauty, so every expert sought to give me the greatest aids to beauty. Now I wish to bring like benefits to millions.

Write me for my Beauty Book and I'll send with it something else to please you. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

Loeb-Leopold Escape From Rope Is Surprise To British

"What do They Have to do in America to Get Death," Asks One Paper.

LONDON.—The United States completely baffles England, and the English will never be able to fathom American public affairs. The wonderment aroused by the Loeb-Leopold murder case is fairly significant of England's amazement at American methods.

No event in the United States in recent time has attracted q uite t he wide attention that the Loeb-Leopold case attracted in England. English newspapers printed columns and columns of this trial and carried articles to explain it. The legal procedure in the case also drew forth comment, and when the verdict came England was shocked and baffled. Newspapers put out extra editions and scattered "bills" all over the country announcing, "Chicago Murder Verdict Surprise!" Newspaper readers were quick to voice their astonishment.

"Life Imprisonment!" was the headline, and on ever hand one heard expressions of amazement.

"What do they have to do in America to get a death sentence?" was typical of the question the English asked each other.

The question became all absorbing and was even discussed in the "high brow" weekly papers.

"It is presumptuous to set a limit to the development of any art," said the Saturday Review, apologizing because it could not stamp Loeb and Leopold as having achieved the highest climax in "the art of murder."

"There were strong men before Cain, and there will be stronger or even more cunning or more unintelligibly motived after Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold," the Review continues in an ironic vein.

"But for the moment, perhaps for the whole week, the record of these two intelligent young plutocrats stands. Other heights in other lives or times; for the instant, or until our next issue, theirs is the supreme thing in murder for sport. It has, indeed, certain flaws. .. .. .. Yet, take it all in all, the murder of Bibby Franks the thirteen-year-old heir to a fortune comparable to those in prospect for Loeb and Leopold, was as thoughtful and as finished a murder as we, at the present age, can expect even from America. .. ..

"Without exaggerating the risk to the murderers' lives in a country which has only one execution to every eight cases of homicide, Loeb and Leopold may fairly be said to have taken as much as they could without incurring the reproach of indulging in blatant public assassination.

"They have escaped with their lives, and the Judge has escaped with his, which, apparently, was in quite as much danger."

Under English law, Loeb and Leopold could not have escaped the gallows except by successfully establishing insanity. Here, where homicide generally results in execution, the life improisonment of these two youths is not conceivable. England is so baffled that many will still be puzzling about it all in the clubs along Piccadilly, when Loeb and Leopold are old men.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS
BY MRS. ELIZABETH L. THOMPSON

TRYING TO DO RIGHT.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a girl for about a year and when we started to go together she did not go with any other fellow, but now she wants to go with other fellows through the week. I have given in to her because I thought she had the right to do as she wished. Do you think that was the right thing to do? There is one fellow I did not consent to because one time when she and some other girl were at a party he and another fellow got drunk and threw eggs all over the porch where the party was and at her home too. She said she could not turn him down if he asked her to go somewhere with him. I told her if I ever saw her with him or heard of her being out with him I was going to stop. Do you think I did the right thing by not giving in to her going with this fellow? Would you advise me to stop if I hear that she was out with him?

TROUBLED BOY BLUE.

Unless you and the girl are engaged I think you were very wise in letting her feel you wanted her to go with other boys when she wished. I think however, that it was a mistake to say you would never have anything more to do with her if she went with the young man who drank. She may try to show her independence and go with him merely to show you she will not let you dictate to her in regard to her friends. It would have been better if you had merely said you hoped she would not go with him because you did not consider him worthy of her. In case she goes with him, tell her you are sorry you tried to interfere in her affairs. If she continues to accept his attentions, let your heart answer your problem.

LOVE IN "THE TEENS."

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl in my teens. Some time ago I met a boy in whom I took great interest. He is an out of town fellow, but as he had been in town I had gone out a great many times with him. The second time that I went out with him he asked me to keep steady company. I told him I thought that I was too young. He writes to me and tells me that he still loves me and wishes that I could be with him all the time. I had been sick in bed and he came all the way to see me. Since he has left everything seems to me like nothing because I love him so dearly. He asked me for my picture and I did not give him any. Would you send him one? Every time he writes he tells me that he loves me and that in two months he is going to come back and get a job so that he can come to see me. Do you think he loves me?

M. R. R.

It is not wise for a girl to give her picture to any and every boy who asks for one, but a case like yours is a little different. Since you love each other and he has asked you for your picture I think it would be all right to give him one the next time you see him or even to send him one. The young man certainly seems to love you. Love in "the teens," however, is not very dependable. Before either your tastes will have undergone many changes and that is why it is unwise to place too much faith in youthful love.

TROUBLED WIFE: You aren't getting anywhere in your effort to make your husband see things from your point of view, and therefore I believe it would be wise for you to put him on his honor and let him do what he considers the right thing. Doubtless he feels he is entirely fair to you and the baby when he comes home sober himself when others have taken too much whiskey. Also if he plays cards moderately he feels that he is not doing anything wrong. He really needs recreation since his business takes most of his time including Sunday, and I would advise you to let him be free to enjoy himself in the ways which give him pleasure and which he believes to be harmless. He will do so anyway and your interference brings about inharmony.

Now He's Going Away

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a man of whom I thought a great deal. I loved him so much nothing else mattered and I made many sacrifices for him, stood a lot of trouble on his account, besides helping him every day to get ahead. He has done many things that hurt my feelings and made me suffer, but I never let him know how much i suffered. I always forgave him and he thought I forgot, but I did not. Because of these little things I am getting indifferent and now when the time comes for him to call I do not care if he comes or not, but I have not reached a point where I could give him up entirely without its hurting a great deal. In a short time he is going away. Do you think it better just to keep o as I have been and wait until he leaves and then forget him, or should I quit now. There is nothing I would not do to make him happy while he never appreciates anything I do and never tries to do anything to make me happy. He never fails to come or to take me places, but he certainly is selfish and unappreciative. Please tell me what you think and what I should do. Why is it that men are always looking for true blue love and when they find it they are not satisfied?

MAYBLE S.

You might do the young man a kindness if you told him frankly why you have grown indifferent to him. He has taken advantage of your patronage and forebarance and he ought to know that such selfishness and lack of consideration of another is bound to bring about disastrous results in the end. I would advise you to tell him right away.

An Unique Case.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: A certain man in my neighbrohood has been my interest in life for a long time, for I like to observe people, and he attracted me. He seemed very disconsolate and gloomy. I observed him closely, going into his home, caring for his year-old daughter while his wife went to dances, theaters, parks, etc. One evening he came home. His wife had been gone all afternoon and hadn't yet returned. He had an important business engagement, so I cooked supper for him. Never in my life before have I seen such gratitude shine from anyone's eyes as his. I soon learned from the neighbors that his wife never did anything for him, and I sure believe it. But now comes my trouble. I fell in love with this henpecked husband, and, although I tried to forget him, it seems impossible. He is now filing suit for divorce and wants me to marry him as soon as he gets it. Shall I, or shall I not? I mean would it look wrong to do so? The reason I need your answer is that I have no mother and I don't believe I can live without him very long.

ACCIDENTIAL LOVE.

If you were really a close observer you would have noticed some time ago, that women don't invade other women's homes to care for their children and their perhaps sulky and disconsolate husbands unless they are nurse maids or make a living doing that sort of thing. You would also have noticed that a man with so gay a wife must surely be gloomy of his own volition. You know nothing about the side of this man he very probably shows his wife. There aren't very many women who just naturally neglect their husbands, and a bit of thoughtlessness on their part often makes a splendid alibi to the self-pitying male who would probably be just as restive in a second marriage as in a first.

Says: New York Women Use Perfect Antiseptic

The newest discovery in the antiseptic line is called Kojene and it is four times as powerful as carbolic acid and much more powerful than bichloride of Mercury, yet in spite of its great germ killing power one can drink it with no ill effects.

Chemists say this discovery means that poisonous antiseptics will be banished from the home where they have long been a menace to life.

MRS. DAVIS RECOVERS STRENGTH

The following statement contained in a letter from Mrs. Alice Davis of Jamestown, N. Y., should bring hope to other women who are in the same condition she was. She says: "I was nervous and weak with pains in my back, no ambition, and utterly discouraged, and could not sit up all the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health and strength so I am now running a rooming house and do all the work." Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is pre-eminently successful in overcoming such troubles and it will pay any suffering woman to try it.

TODAY'S RECIPES.

Creole Omelet — Break eggs in a bowl, adding a tablespoon of cold water for each one. Beat well with Dover beater and add a pinch of baking powder. Add seasonings. Put butter in a frying pan over a low fire and cook until eggs are well set, then fold over and serve hot with Creole sauce. Sauce: Saute finely chopped onions, green peppers, fresh corn and real ripe tomatoes in small amount of butter. Pour over the omelet and garnish with parsley.

Sweet Potatoes, Southern Style — To every cup of boiled mashed sweet potatoes add one-third of a cup of cane syrup, one teaspoon of butter, and cinnamon to taste. Break up bits of marshmallow and stir into mixture. Stir all well and put into a well greased, fairly deep baking pan. Cook in a slow oven until firm and brown on top. It is said that a noted southern general would walk miles for a helping of this.

Iced Box Apples—Core large apples, fill holes with brown sugar and bake until soft. Put on ice. Just before dinner whip half a pint of cream, add brown sugar and vanilla to taste, pile on the apples and return to ice box. Just before serving sprinkle with chopped nuts and top with a cherry.

Staples form a considerable share of the efficient housewife's marketing list. She keeps her pantry shelves well stocked with essentials, for having planned a meal, its preparation must not be hindered by lack of the necessary ingredients. There is no substitute for sugar, butter, milk, salt, flour and baking powder, so you must have these ingredients on hand if you are to provide the family with a nourishing meal. A slate, scratch pad and chalk or pencil to write with are very handy if kept in the kitchen. Jot down on them the staples that are running low, and you will not forget them when you go to the store.

LAUNDRY HINTS

Many stubborn stains which are difficult to rub out, will yield readily to a good boiling in soap powder, a little kerosene and water. This is particularly good for blood stains. Add about two tablespoonfuls of kerosene to a half a pail of water. No rubbing is necessary, and this saves wear upon the fabric. Rinse thoroughly and dry.

When making boiled starch, add a few shavings of paraffine or a little borax with the boiling water. Either method gives an extra stiffness and a desirable finish.

Clothes are whitened if a table spoonful of ammonia and one of turpentine are added to each pail of boiling water. Use the usual amount of soap or soap powder.

Curtains and articles which are dusty are best soaked in plain, lukewarm water and squeezed out before putting through the regular process of washing. This helps to give a better color and to make the washing easier.

A heavy woolen pad covered with clean white material is a great help in ironing laces or embroideries. Iron on the wrong side and the pattern will sink into the soft surface and be especially attractive if carefully pulled out straight before commencing. Press until thoroughly dry.

Will is Upheld.

ATHENS—A jury in common pleas court here upheld the will of the late Herbert Byard, eccentric English recluse, by which he left about $30,4000 in property to relatives in his homeland. A cousin living in Cincinnati contested the will. Byard lived alone in the hills near Athens for half a century.

High Blood Pressure Often Brought On by an Unhealthy Liver

Diseases of heart, kidneys, blood vessels due to body poisons

Medical science knows that poisonous waste in our bodies would actually cause death in a few days if not eliminated by Nature's process. Because it destroys these deadly poisons, the liver is our most important organ—the body's wonderful purifier.

The liver prevents the formation of body poisons that cause diseases of the heart, kidneys, blood vessels and are chiefly responsible for premature old age.

When the liver becomes weak, the poisons are sucked up by the blood and health is broken down. Physicians know that the liver cannot be regulated by drugs, but a safe Nature substance has been discovered which will at once increase the vital bile supply. The discovery is purified ox gall.

Get from your druggist a package of Dioxol. Each tablet contains ten drops of purified ox gall. In 24 hours the poison toxins will be removed. Your liver will be regulated. Blood purification will begin. Sallow skin will clear. You will feel so much better you will know you have found the cause of your ill health. Dioxol tablets are harmless, tasteless and cost less than two cents each.

These genuine ox gall tablets are prepared only under the name "Dioxol." If any tablet is offered you under another name, refuse it. Accept only Dioxol in the original genuine package.

My Skin
Is due to a super-clay

By Edna Wallace Hopper

After 40 years in the limelight—after 35 years as a stage star—I still look a girl of 19. The thousands who see me daily know that, and wonder how this came about.

The chief reason lies in a new-type clay. I started years ago with the old-type clays, crude and muddy, which so many still employ. They brought me amazing results. But I have kept in touch with scientific progress, and in 20 years it has brought me a clay which gives multiplied results.

Today I have what experts call the last word in facial clay. It is white, refined and dainty. And it embodies many new discoveries. Until I obtained this, I never knew one-tenth what clay could do.

Now I am supplying this clay to others. I call it my White Youth Clay. All druggists and toilet counters have it—exactly the clay I use. And I am stating its results to girls who want more beauty and to women who want youth.

My White Youth Clay purges the skin of all that clogs and mars it. It draws out the causes of blackheads and blemishes. It brings the blood to the skin to nourish and revive it. The result if a rosy afterglow which amazes and delights. Many women seem to drop ten years with one application.

It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores. No girl or woman who once enjoys its results will ever go without it.

I want you to know what it does. My good fortune obtained it for me. I was famous as a beauty, so every expert sought to give me the greatest aids to beauty. Now I wish to bring like benefits to millions.

Write me for my Beauty Book and I'll send with it something else to please you. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

Miss Cora M. Nash Becomes Bride of John W. Laughlin

Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Nash of Georgetown, Pa., have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Cora Mae to John William Laughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Laughlin, of Shippingport, Pa. The ceremony was performed in the First Presbyterian church in Beaver, Pa., Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mrs. William Forster of Rochester, Pa., sister of the bride, was the only attendant.

The bride was attired in a frock of tan Canton crepe with matching accessories and wore a corsage of roses and lilies of the valley. She is a member of the younger set of the Beaver Valley and attended the Beaver Conservatory of Music at Beaver Pa. She is well known here where she has been employed for the last four years at the D. M. Ogilvie company.

The bride-groom is also well-known here, where he graduated from the Ohio Valley Business college with the class of 1924. He was a member of the 1919 graduating class of Midland High school and attended Allegheny college at Meadville, Pa. He is employed in the Crucible Steel company plant at Midland, Pa.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Williams left for Pittsburgh from where they will go east for an extended honeymoon. Upon their return they will reside temporarily with the bride's parents in Georgetown Pa.

Honor Mrs. A. J. Sewickley.

Honoring Mrs. A. J. Sewickley of Youngstown, the house guest of Mrs. Herbert Barker of Dresden avenue, Mrs. Thomas Carr entertained a group of friends in her home in Monroe street, Monday evening. Five hundred was the principal diversion of the social hours, after which a dainty course luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Albert Taylor. The decorations were of Ophelia roses with a color scheme of green and yellow. Covers were arranged for 12 guests.

Trophies for the highest scores for the evening were awarded Mrs. Herbert Barker, Mrs. Albert Taylor, and a guest prize was given Mrs. Sewickley.

Fall Fashion Revue

You Are Cordially Requested to Review a Showing Complete

Modes in Millinery

The Hat that will conquer feminine fancy this autumn, it is claimed, is the high-crowned one in tailored spirit. Frequently Fashion endeavors to keep it from severity and attaches a bird head or ostrich brush to its crown. Then Youth may wear it.

Frocks of Fall Turn to Tunics

Flattering fashion, we welcome you. We admire these tunics that grace almost every Frock, and find it hard to choose our favorite with the circular and slashed, buttoned and flared, come for autumn choosing. Better that each should let fabric be her guide and choose from Kasha, satin, twill and alpaca the tunic Frock she shall wear.

Wraps of Autumn Green or Golden

Green and golden Wraps will flash most prominently in autumn sunlight. Wraps slim and bordered in fur. Wraps full above the waistline and growing narrow toward the hem. Wraps of corded fabrics. These are Wraps that will brighten autumn for you. Burnt russet and shutter green are new.

The New Styles in Fall Suits

A beautiful day in autumn with something important on the program may find a woman happy if she owns a new ensemble costume, one of these. The leading Suit for fall claims frock and long jacket, and appears in gorgeous shades borrowed from the woodland.

"Born to Blush Unseen"

That is the modest fate of the exquisite undies of the new season. The loveliest of them literally blush, for they are of the most alluring rosy hue, and the laces that foam over them are ecru or ochre. Isn't it nice to know that no matter how severely smart an appearance we must present to the world, we may secretly indulge a passion for ribbons and laces?

SOCIETY

Miss Cora M. Nash Becomes Bride of John W. Laughlin

Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Nash of Georgetown, Pa., have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Cora Mae to John William Laughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Laughlin, of Shippingport, Pa. The ceremony was performed in the First Presbyterian church in Beaver, Pa., Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mrs. William Forster of Rochester, Pa., sister of the bride, was the only attendant.

The bride was attired in a frock of tan Canton crepe with matching accessories and wore a corsage of roses and lilies of the valley. She is a member of the younger set of the Beaver Valley and attended the Beaver Conservatory of Music at Beaver Pa. She is well known here where she has been employed for the last four years at the D. M. Ogilvie company.

The bride-groom is also well-known here, where he graduated from the Ohio Valley Business college with the class of 1924. He was a member of the 1919 graduating class of Midland High school and attended Allegheny college at Meadville, Pa. He is employed in the Crucible Steel company plant at Midland, Pa.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Williams left for Pittsburgh from where they will go east for an extended honeymoon. Upon their return they will reside temporarily with the bride's parents in Georgetown Pa.

Honor Mrs. A. J. Sewickley.

Honoring Mrs. A. J. Sewickley of Youngstown, the house guest of Mrs. Herbert Barker of Dresden avenue, Mrs. Thomas Carr entertained a group of friends in her home in Monroe street, Monday evening. Five hundred was the principal diversion of the social hours, after which a dainty course luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Albert Taylor. The decorations were of Ophelia roses with a color scheme of green and yellow. Covers were arranged for 12 guests.

Trophies for the highest scores for the evening were awarded Mrs. Herbert Barker, Mrs. Albert Taylor, and a guest prize was given Mrs. Sewickley.

MAKES FAT PEOPLE SLIM!

Many of your friends think that you are too fat. You too realize it. But why, in all common sense, don't you get rid of that extra 10, 20, 50 or more pounds? Feel comfortable and more like a human being again. I am a physician licensed by the State of New York. I have for years treated men and women overburdened with excessive flesh; many have reduced as much as a pound a day. I prescribe for my patients which treatment as will, in my opinion, produce not only the loss of weight without harm, but an improvement in health. Don't take my word for it. Let me send you free my trial treatment and convince yourself. Personal attention is given to each case and you are treated exactly as if you were in my office.

FREE TRIAL TREATMENT AND INTERESTING BOOKLET

I have successfully treated thousands of patients for fat reduction.

Without Change of Diet or Unnecessary Exercise

Below are a few extracts of letters from grateful patients which bear out my statements:

Lost 76 Pounds. Miss O. Whitlow writes: "I have lost 76 pounds as a result of your treatment and have never felt so well in my life as I do now."

Lost 70 Pounds. Mr. S. Santee writes: "I have lost 70 pounds as a result of taking your treatment. I feel better in every way. I can now take long walks without becoming tired or short of breath. I thank you very much for what you have done for me."

Lost 48 Pounds. Mrs. E. Horner says: "Well, I'm glad to inform you that I have lost 48 pounds in 6 weeks."

Make up your mind this very day to get rid of that fat. Write me for my free trial treatment now; then you'll soon realize how happy you'll feel, how much better your health will be for having joined the thousands of my grateful patients who now belong to the ranks of Slim People. Don't delay. Write now for FREE Trial Treatment.

PLAN TO ERECT M. E. PARSONAGE

Tabernacle Will be Razed and Smaller One Built.

In order to make room for the erection of a new parsonage for the First Methodist Episcopal church, the tabernacle, now occupying one of the lots owned by the church in Carolina avenue between Second and Third streets, will be razed and a smaller structure built in the rear of the lot, it has been stated by members of the congregation.

The trustees have made application to the Hancock county Circuit court for permission to construct the new parsonage and this will be acted on at the November term.

The present parsonage in Adolphus street will be sold.

The present tabernacle, which extends lengthwise from Carolina avenue to the alley in the rear, will be torn down and the materials used to erect a smaller building to be set cross-wise on the rear of the property.

This structure is used for meetings of the various church organiaztions and to house several classes of the Sunday school, while the renovating work is in progress the church will be used as a meeting place.

Rheumatism

"Good-bye old crutch!"

THERE IS positively no longer any excuse for suffering the agonies of rheumatism! Especially in the autumn of your life, when the vital organs weaken, impurities multiply and linger in the muscles and joints, as never before. It is now, just now, when you cannot afford to guess. No day returns!

Here is a joyous fact which can mean to you a fond farewell forever to all the miseries, the tortures, the body-twisting pains that you have suffered from the demon of rheumatism. It is a fact that rheumatism means "blood poverty." It is a fact with the increase of red-cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S.S.S. will help Nature build these red-blood-cells! S.S.S. is one of the most powerful blood cleansers in existence. Its results in thousands of rheumatic cases have been nothing short of amazing! The medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable. This is very important to remember! What can be more inspiring, more wonderful than to see the shackles of pain released from your struggling body, swellings, lingering pains, stiffness of joints and muscles all disappear; your stomach made strong; your face pink with the old sweetheart glow, your blood enriched and your cheeks more plump as they used to be. You can do it! Take S.S.S., the great destroyer of rheumatic impurities.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

S.S.S. Makes You Feel Like Yourself Again

OBSERVE RALLY DAY ON SUNDAY

Rally Day will be observed Sunday in the First Presbyterian church, Rev. H. O. MacDonald, church pastor, has announced. The Sunday school and morning preaching services will be combined and will start at 10:30 o'clock.

"The Bible For All" is the subject for the service prescribed by the board of Christian education of the church.

A pageant, "Saving the Fifteen," will be presented.

Rev. MacDonald urges that all Presbyterians of Chester and local residents who have not church affiliations attend the service.

"GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY" IS SET

Sunday, October 5, will be "Go To Church Sunday" in Chester, and all residents of the town are urged to attend some service during that day.

The Chester Ministerial association is sponsoring the movement and all members are endeavoring to have large turnouts at their respective churches.

The religious census of Chester, which was conducted by the association, has been completed it was stated Wednesday.

All residents were asked to declare their church affiliations so that the number of followers of each creed could be determined.

Each pastor will be given a list of the persons professing the faith of his church and statistics, now being tabulated, will be announced soon.

M. E. CONFERENCE IS IN SESSION

An address on the subject, "Our Debts to the Preacher," will be delivered by Dr. George Eliott of New York, editor of the Methodist Review at the session of the Pittsburgh Conference of the Methodist Episcopal churches to be held Wednesday evening in the South avenue church at Wilkinsburg, Pa.

Memorial services for ministers of the conference who died last year, were conducted Wednesday and three lectures were delivered in the afternoon.

Rev. R. B. Ward, pastor, and C. W. Ewing, lay delegate, are representing the local church at the conference.

Catholic Church Euchre Party.

A euchre party will be held Wednesday evening in the I. O. O. F.-K. of P. hall under the auspices of the women of the Sacred Heart Catholic church. Trophies will be awarded winners and arrangements will be served.

Bible School Conference.

Teachers and workers of the Bible school of the First Christian church held their monthly conference in the basement of the church Tuesday evening.

Burgettstown Fair Opens.

The annual Burgettstown fair opened Wednesday at Burgettstown, Pa., and will continue until Friday evening. There will be harness racing Wednesday and Thursday.

Missionary Society Meeting.

The Women's Missionary society of the First Christian church will hold its monthly meeting at 8 o'clock Friday evening at the home of Mrs. A. M. Willison in Penn avenue. Business and social sessions will be held.

Junior Highs In First Game

The Chester junior high school football team will play its first home game of the season at Rock Springs park Wednesday evening after the close of school. The team representing the Sixth street grade school of East Liverpool will oppose the locals.

ALONE IN HAUNTED HOUSE, ICY HAND, THEN-IT'S "CAT AND CANARY"

Get Ready for Multiplicity of Thrills in Famous Mystery Show at Ceramic for Three Days.

If you were alone in the musty bedchamber of a haunted house—

And preparing to spend the night in the bed in which your grandfather had died—

And none of the furniture had been touched for 20 years—

And you have been warned of ghosts and of a homicidal lunatic loose in the neighborhood—

And you had been hearing funny stories—

AN ICY HAND—

The thrills of "The Cat and the Canary" are better experienced than read about, but it can be said that with the foregoing outline as a starter they multiply as the show proceeds. Without disclosing the eventual surprise, the audience first meets a group of six seated in an old house at midnight, to hear the will of an eccentric millionaire who had died twenty years before to the minute. The proceedings carried out according to his wishes develop the fact that the heroine is to be the heiress provided she spend the night in her grandfather's bed and show no sign of insanity in the morning.

It is by design a creepy tale involving sinister tappings, mysterious sliding panels, a hidden necklace, an old servant who communes with the ghosts in the walls and a man who vanishes before your face to turn up murdered.

Incidentally, in its varous careers in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and London, "The Cat and the Canary" has never failed to involve its audience in hysterial shrieks.

Woman's Guild Session.

The Woman's Guild of St. Matthew's Episcopal church will meet Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Frances Dudley in California avenue.

Loyal Sons to Meet.

The monthly business meeting of the Loyal Sons' class of the Bible school of the First Christian church will be held Thursday evening at the home of Percy Willison, Orn avenue.

P. .H C. Candidates Initiated.

M. A. Burgess of Chester presided tected Home Circle lodges of the Ohio valley held Tuesday evening in the rooms of Eureka Circle, No. 86 of East Liverpool.

A class of about 20 candidates from Good Luck Circle, No. 360, of Chester were initiated at the meeting by the Ohio Valley degree team.

Ike Rose's Royal Midgets Are Coming To Strand Theatre

Tiny people, men and women, some of them but two feet four inches in height, clever gymnasts, acrobats and spring board performers, are coming to the Strand theatre with Ike Rose's Royal Midgets. It is said to be the cleverest company of Lilliputians on the road today and was brought from the Continent by Mr. Rose a short time ago. It is composed of the best performers from all over Europe, and none of them have ever been in the United States before.

The Williams troupe is a very important link of the Royal Midgets, and two of the feature performers are Princess Lucile, who is but two feet four inches in height, and only 16 years old; and her brother, Prince Colibri, two feet six inches tall, and 19 years of age. These tiny tony are the outstanding stars of this group, and their performance is little short of miraculous. In size they compare to the average child of two or three years of age, yet they are perfectly developed, beautiful youngsters, with extraordinary ability.

Harry Arno, the Julian Eltinge of the midget world, is a wonder as a female impersonator, and his songs and comedy always receive a big hand. Theodore and Henry Bors furnish the humor of the situation and their clown antics are laugh producers, while little Carl Stevens always wins a warm spot in the heart of his audiences.

As a concluding feature and one that interests every one, two of the midgets don tiny boxing gloves, and after being introduced as Lew Leonard and Benny Tendler, give a wonderful exhibition.

Now Eats Meats, Vegetables, And Pastry After Living On Light Diet For Many Months

Mrs. F. Conhart, 772 Woodlawn avenue, East Liverpool, is now eating meats, vegetables and pastry, say friends and neighbors, in explaining the merits of World Tonic to those who are suffering from stomach trouble.

Continuing Mrs. Conhart says, "before taking World Tonic I was practically compelled to live on a light diet for many months. If I ate substantial food I was almost sure to have a bad case of indigestion.

"What little food I ate was not sufficient to keep up my strength. I was quite weak and greatly run down in health. In fact, I had reached a point where I was beginning to be alarmed. I heard of World Tonic so I obtained a bottle and began taking it in accordance with the directions printed on the label. It helped me. I am very enthusiastic about the medicine. I don't need to tell my friends I am better, for they can notice a big improvement in my appearance.

"I am very thankful to World Tonic, and it certainly gives me pleasure to tell my experience.

The welfare of mankind demands that our bodies should be supplied with good, healthy nourishment. Healthy nourishment can only be had through the stomach, and not then if digestion is not perfect. When digestion is bad the entire system suffers. World Tonic is valuable as a system tonic because it is designed to relieve misery after eating to aid digestion. Get it at Carnahan's 114 East Sixth street, East End, C. N. Brannon's, Wellsville, and all the other reliable drug stores. $1.00 for large bottle.

PLAN TO ERECT M. E. PARSONAGE

Tabernacle Will be Razed and Smaller One Built.

In order to make room for the erection of a new parsonage for the First Methodist Episcopal church, the tabernacle, now occupying one of the lots owned by the church in Carolina avenue between Second and Third streets, will be razed and a smaller structure built in the rear of the lot, it has been stated by members of the congregation.

The trustees have made application to the Hancock county Circuit court for permission to construct the new parsonage and this will be acted on at the November term.

The present parsonage in Adolphus street will be sold.

The present tabernacle, which extends lengthwise from Carolina avenue to the alley in the rear, will be torn down and the materials used to erect a smaller building to be set cross-wise on the rear of the property.

This structure is used for meetings of the various church organiaztions and to house several classes of the Sunday school, while the renovating work is in progress the church will be used as a meeting place.

Rheumatism

"Good-bye old crutch!"

THERE IS positively no longer any excuse for suffering the agonies of rheumatism! Especially in the autumn of your life, when the vital organs weaken, impurities multiply and linger in the muscles and joints, as never before. It is now, just now, when you cannot afford to guess. No day returns!

Here is a joyous fact which can mean to you a fond farewell forever to all the miseries, the tortures, the body-twisting pains that you have suffered from the demon of rheumatism. It is a fact that rheumatism means "blood poverty." It is a fact with the increase of red-cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S.S.S. will help Nature build these red-blood-cells! S.S.S. is one of the most powerful blood cleansers in existence. Its results in thousands of rheumatic cases have been nothing short of amazing! The medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable. This is very important to remember! What can be more inspiring, more wonderful than to see the shackles of pain released from your struggling body, swellings, lingering pains, stiffness of joints and muscles all disappear; your stomach made strong; your face pink with the old sweetheart glow, your blood enriched and your cheeks more plump as they used to be. You can do it! Take S.S.S., the great destroyer of rheumatic impurities.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

ALONE IN HAUNTED HOUSE, ICY HAND, THEN-IT'S "CAT AND CANARY"

Get Ready for Multiplicity of Thrills in Famous Mystery Show at Ceramic for Three Days.

If you were alone in the musty bedchamber of a haunted house—

And preparing to spend the night in the bed in which your grandfather had died—

And none of the furniture had been touched for 20 years—

And you have been warned of ghosts and of a homicidal lunatic loose in the neighborhood—

And you had been hearing funny stories—

AN ICY HAND—

The thrills of "The Cat and the Canary" are better experienced than read about, but it can be said that with the foregoing outline as a starter they multiply as the show proceeds. Without disclosing the eventual surprise, the audience first meets a group of six seated in an old house at midnight, to hear the will of an eccentric millionaire who had died twenty years before to the minute. The proceedings carried out according to his wishes develop the fact that the heroine is to be the heiress provided she spend the night in her grandfather's bed and show no sign of insanity in the morning.

It is by design a creepy tale involving sinister tappings, mysterious sliding panels, a hidden necklace, an old servant who communes with the ghosts in the walls and a man who vanishes before your face to turn up murdered.

Incidentally, in its varous careers in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and London, "The Cat and the Canary" has never failed to involve its audience in hysterial shrieks.

Woman's Guild Session.

The Woman's Guild of St. Matthew's Episcopal church will meet Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Frances Dudley in California avenue.

Loyal Sons to Meet.

The monthly business meeting of the Loyal Sons' class of the Bible school of the First Christian church will be held Thursday evening at the home of Percy Willison, Orn avenue.

A class of about 20 candidates from Good Luck Circle, No. 360, of Chester were initiated at the meeting by the Ohio Valley degree team.

Ike Rose's Royal Midgets Are Coming To Strand Theatre

Tiny people, men and women, some of them but two feet four inches in height, clever gymnasts, acrobats and spring board performers, are coming to the Strand theatre with Ike Rose's Royal Midgets. It is said to be the cleverest company of Lilliputians on the road today and was brought from the Continent by Mr. Rose a short time ago. It is composed of the best performers from all over Europe, and none of them have ever been in the United States before.

The Williams troupe is a very important link of the Royal Midgets, and two of the feature performers are Princess Lucile, who is but two feet four inches in height, and only 16 years old; and her brother, Prince Colibri, two feet six inches tall, and 19 years of age. These tiny tony are the outstanding stars of this group, and their performance is little short of miraculous. In size they compare to the average child of two or three years of age, yet they are perfectly developed, beautiful youngsters, with extraordinary ability.

Harry Arno, the Julian Eltinge of the midget world, is a wonder as a female impersonator, and his songs and comedy always receive a big hand. Theodore and Henry Bors furnish the humor of the situation and their clown antics are laugh producers, while little Carl Stevens always wins a warm spot in the heart of his audiences.

PLAN TO ADJUST DAMAGE CASES

Actions Against City of Salem May Not Be Tried.

Behind the request made to Judge James G. Moore that two cases now listed on the appearance docket wherein the city of Salem is defendant, be continued until the January term of court, is the probability of the settlement of all damage actions against the municipal corporation without a court trial.

Several adjustments have already been made on a basis per acre, and it is very likely that similar settlements will be made with all those who have recently filed actions against the municipality.

The two cases continued until the January term just now are those filed by Attorneys Metsgar & McCarty in behalf of Kenneth Unstead and Theresa Kintner. The latter has filed her petition seeking $25,000 damages. All causes for action have been made upon the sewage disposal system of Salem, and are known as the "Buttermilk Run" cases.

Over a dozen damage actions have been filed against the corporation, and belief is now current that adjustments will be made in all causes on or about January 1, next.

In the action filed by Elizabeth Atkinson against the Metropolitan Life Insurance company to recover $500 claimed due on a policy, the demurrer to the cross petition of the plaintiff has been overruled. The action was filed by Attorney H. W. Hammond, of Columbiana.

An order of court has been made in the case of William Bray against the Salineville Co-Operative company, that the temporary receiver turn over to R. D. Smith, permanent receiver, all property and money now in his possession. The accounts of the temporary receiver have been approved by the court.

In the $50,000 damage case filed by Ed W. Hall against Thomas Cadwallader, the motion to the petition has been sustained by the court and the demurrer has been overruled. Attorney K. L. Koburn, of Salem, is representing the plaintiff in this action.

The action of Albert Catlett, of Wellsville, as administrator, against Mary Whalen, et als, has been settled, and the costs paid, according to an entry made on the court journal.

JUDGMENT FOR $3,000 IS ASKED

Judgment for $3,000 is sought in a petition filed by Attorney W. S. Potts in behalf of Ida F. Ward, as administrator of the estate of the late Anna M. Taylor, against Ernest K. Bell and Blanche Bell.

The petition recites that the defendants gave three notes to the plaintiff for $1,000 each, payable at yearly intervals, and to secure the obligation a mortgage on a farm of 100 acres in section 28, Fairfield township, was given.

MARRIAGE RECORD HIGH LAST MONTH

"Twas a pretty good month for weddings," declared Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, when the office closed for September. "June, September and December are always our best months for weddings."

There were 54 marriage licenses issued during September, a dozen more than were issued during August. The majority of those who obtained licenses were married in Lisbon, the record discloses.

PROTEST NEW PHONE RATES

City Solicitor J. E. Bauknecht, of East Palestine, has been informed that the new schedule of telephone rates proposed for the East Palestine district and effective as of October 1, had been held up by the public utilities commission of Ohio. The Bell Telephone company filed a new tariff for the Palestin district, and objections were made to it by the municipality. A protest was filed with the commission, and date for future hearing has not been announced.

Will Remove Boiler.

The Erie City Iron Works has been granted leave to remove a boiler and fittings from the plant of the McLean Tire & Rubber Co., of East Liverpool. This order of court has been made in the case of the Continental Trust Co., of Pittsburgh, Pa., against the Rubber company, and a similar entry has also been made in the case of W. B. Davis against the dependant corporation.

Auto Business Active.

Sale of new and used automobiles in this county during September was active, according to the records of the office of Clerk of Courts John T. Burns. There were 731 bills of sale filed for record, this being the second largest month so far this year, exceeded only by the record of April, when over 800 bills of sale were recorded.

Files Divorce Plea.

A petition for divorce has been filed in common pleas court by Attorneys Lones, Hill & Davidson in behalf of Frank D. Moore whose wife, Mary A. Moore, who is said to be living in New Eagle, Pa. Mrs. Moore is charged with being absent from her husband for three years, also with the neglect of martial duties.

ADVICE GIVEN TO MOTORISTS

"Keep Off Roads Being Repaired," Warns Auto Club Head.

Keep off highways under construction or being repaired. This is the advice given out by Charles C. Janes, secretary of the Ohio State Automobile association.

The same suggestion is being made by all clubs affiliated with the American Automobile association in an effort to speed up road work and insure better workmanship.

"The majority of motorists," Janes said, "could avoid reconstruction work if they would take the trouble to post themselves on road building and look up secondary routes. As matters stand, road work is seriously handicapped by motorists who are themselves troubled over the delay.

"The demand for non-detour construction has grown to a point where the motorist is virtually demanding a non-construction order of things. Road work in many instances has resolved itself into traffic regulation.

"Since the motorist must pay for it all, it stands to reason that he would be gaining by endeavoring to stop interrupting the contractors. With rapid development of secondary roads in all parts of the country, there is little reason to insist upon traveling over routes that are under repair.

"Information as to construction work is available at automobile club headquarters, thus eliminating speculation and enabling the motorist to plan his trips so as to avoid road work—as well as the additional road work that is occasioned by delays.

"When making inquiry regarding construction work, the motorist should get acquainted with the secondary roads, many of which are more interesting and better suited for steady driving when one is trying to make good time on a trip."

DIVORCE SUITS HEAD DOCKET

Twenty-One Actions Filed in Court Here Last Month.

Of the 103 cases entered on the appearance docket of common pleas court during the month of September, 21 actions were for divorce, some of the latter being pleadings for alimony also. This was an average of almost one divorce case per diem the court was in session.

Clyda Huff, of Minerva street, East Liverpool, through her counsel, W. S. Stevenson, was the last to file a divorce action in September, she filing an action against her husband, William Huff, a jiggerman. The couple were married at Beaver, Pa., November 8, last year. She alleges that her husband has called her vile and indecent names, that he has been guilty of leaving his home for weeks at a time, and that he has been guilty of extreme cruelty.

Viola Burris, who married William H. Burris at Moundsville, W. Va., September 3, 1907, has also filed her petition for divorce, at the same time seeking temporary alimony. Burris is now living at Cameron, W. Va., and makes his home in the country. The petition recites that Burris "beat, choked, slapped, kicked and otherwise mistreated the plaintiff." He is also accused of having a brutal temper. Gross neglect of duty and wilful absence are also charged by the plaintiff against the defendant.

Anna Naugle, through her counsel, Metzgar & McCarty, of Salem, has obtained a decree of divorce from her husband, David Samuel Naugle, and also custody of her three children. Her petition recited that Naugle is capable of making $6 per day working for the Mullens Body company, of Salem, while she had to make her living by working for the Salem China company. He was charged with gross neglect. The action was filed October 26, 1923.

Leetonia

Mrs. Joseph Wagonhauser Jr. was hostess recently to members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church. Mrs. Lydia Moyer was tendered a linen shower prior to her departure for Florida to spend the winter with her son, John Moyer. Mrs. Moyer presented the society with a pair of hand embroidered pillow slips which were later purchased by a member and the money turned into the treasury. Lunch was served by the hostess.

The Girl Scout troop of this place held a weiner sizzle last Friday evening at Fredericks grove. About 75 members of the troop were in attendance. They were accompanied by Scout Masters Wilbur Mellinger and Eldon Holt, Captain Roma Degnan and Lieut. Sylvia Nettrow.

Mrs. Margaret Baker has returned to her home in New York city after a visit with Mrs. J. W. Wilcoxen.

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Howell and daughter, Miss Evelyn, Detroit, Mich., are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Howell.

The Misses Margaret Huffnagle, Theresa Holland and Grace Reglemyer spent the week-end with Mrs. Daniel Grafton in Salem.

This village has the distinction of having for a resident possibly the oldest man in Columbiana county in the person of Samuel Howell who will be 100 years old if he lives until May 23, 1925. He was born in Pennsylvania and came to Leetonia when a boy and has since resided here. He is the father of 10 children, seven of whom, six sons and one daughter, are living. He makes his home with his son, Henry, his wife having died many years ago. He served in the Civil war and at present is enjoying exceptionally good health.

Rally Day services were held Sunday at the Methodist Episcipal church when 288 members and friends assembled. The speaker was Prof. C. E. Oliver, superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school in East Palestine. The musical program was furnished by the school orchestra and members of the church choir.

PLAN TO ADJUST DAMAGE CASES

Actions Against City of Salem May Not Be Tried.

Behind the request made to Judge James G. Moore that two cases now listed on the appearance docket wherein the city of Salem is defendant, be continued until the January term of court, is the probability of the settlement of all damage actions against the municipal corporation without a court trial.

Several adjustments have already been made on a basis per acre, and it is very likely that similar settlements will be made with all those who have recently filed actions against the municipality.

The two cases continued until the January term just now are those filed by Attorneys Metsgar & McCarty in behalf of Kenneth Unstead and Theresa Kintner. The latter has filed her petition seeking $25,000 damages. All causes for action have been made upon the sewage disposal system of Salem, and are known as the "Buttermilk Run" cases.

Over a dozen damage actions have been filed against the corporation, and belief is now current that adjustments will be made in all causes on or about January 1, next.

In the action filed by Elizabeth Atkinson against the Metropolitan Life Insurance company to recover $500 claimed due on a policy, the demurrer to the cross petition of the plaintiff has been overruled. The action was filed by Attorney H. W. Hammond, of Columbiana.

An order of court has been made in the case of William Bray against the Salineville Co-Operative company, that the temporary receiver turn over to R. D. Smith, permanent receiver, all property and money now in his possession. The accounts of the temporary receiver have been approved by the court.

In the $50,000 damage case filed by Ed W. Hall against Thomas Cadwallader, the motion to the petition has been sustained by the court and the demurrer has been overruled. Attorney K. L. Koburn, of Salem, is representing the plaintiff in this action.

The action of Albert Catlett, of Wellsville, as administrator, against Mary Whalen, et als, has been settled, and the costs paid, according to an entry made on the court journal.

JUDGMENT FOR $3,000 IS ASKED

Judgment for $3,000 is sought in a petition filed by Attorney W. S. Potts in behalf of Ida F. Ward, as administrator of the estate of the late Anna M. Taylor, against Ernest K. Bell and Blanche Bell.

The petition recites that the defendants gave three notes to the plaintiff for $1,000 each, payable at yearly intervals, and to secure the obligation a mortgage on a farm of 100 acres in section 28, Fairfield township, was given.

MARRIAGE RECORD HIGH LAST MONTH

"'Twas a pretty good month for weddings," declared Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, when the office closed for September. "June, September and December are always our best months for weddings."

There were 54 marriage licenses issued during September, a dozen more than were issued during August. The majority of those who obtained licenses were married in Lisbon, the record discloses.

PROTEST NEW PHONE RATES

City Solicitor J. E. Bauknecht, of East Palestine, has been informed that the new schedule of telephone rates proposed for the East Palestine district and effective as of October 1, had been held up by the public utilities commission of Ohio. The Bell Telephone company filed a new tariff for the Palestin district, and objections were made to it by the municipality. A protest was filed with the commission, and date for future hearing has not been announced.

Will Remove Boiler.

The Erie City Iron Works has been granted leave to remove a boiler and fittings from the plant of the McLean Tire & Rubber Co., of East Liverpool. This order of court has been made in the case of the Continental Trust Co., of Pittsburgh, Pa., against the Rubber company, and a similar entry has also been made in the case of W. B. Davis against the dependant corporation.

Auto Business Active.

Sale of new and used automobiles in this county during September was active, according to the records of the office of Clerk of Courts John T. Burns. There were 731 bills of sale filed for record, this being the second largest month so far this year, exceeded only by the record of April, when over 800 bills of sale were recorded.

ADVICE GIVEN TO MOTORISTS

"Keep Off Roads Being Repaired," Warns Auto Club Head.

Keep off highways under construction or being repaired. This is the advice given out by Charles C. Janes, secretary of the Ohio State Automobile association.

The same suggestion is being made by all clubs affiliated with the American Automobile association in an effort to speed up road work and insure better workmanship.

"The majority of motorists," Janes said, "could avoid reconstruction work if they would take the trouble to post themselves on road building and look up secondary routes. As matters stand, road work is seriously handicapped by motorists who are themselves troubled over the delay.

"The demand for non-detour construction has grown to a point where the motorist is virtually demanding a non-construction order of things. Road work in many instances has resolved itself into traffic regulation.

"Since the motorist must pay for it all, it stands to reason that he would be gaining by endeavoring to stop interrupting the contractors. With rapid development of secondary roads in all parts of the country, there is little reason to insist upon traveling over routes that are under repair.

"Information as to construction work is available at automobile club headquarters, thus eliminating speculation and enabling the motorist to plan his trips so as to avoid road work—as well as the additional road work that is occasioned by delays.

"When making inquiry regarding construction work, the motorist should get acquainted with the secondary roads, many of which are more interesting and better suited for steady driving when one is trying to make good time on a trip."

DIVORCE SUITS HEAD DOCKET

Twenty - One Actions Filed in Court Here Last Month.

Of the 103 cases entered on the appearance docket of common pleas court during the month of September, 21 actions were for divorce, some of the latter being pleadings for alimony also. This was an average of almost one divorce case per diem the court was in session.

Clyda Huff, of Minerva street, East Liverpool, through her counsel, W. S. Stevenson, was the last to file a divorce action in September, she filing an action against her husband, William Huff, a jiggerman. The couple were married at Beaver, Pa., November 8, last year. She alleges that her husband has called her vile and indecent names, that he has been guilty of leaving his home for weeks at a time, and that he has been guilty of extreme cruelty.

Viola Burris, who married William H. Burris at Moundsville, W. Va., September 3, 1907, has also filed her petition for divorce, at the same time seeking temporary alimony. Burris is now living at Cameron, W. Va., and makes his home in the country. The petition recites that Burris "beat, choked, slapped, kicked and otherwise mistreated the plaintiff." He is also accused of having a brutal temper. Gross neglect of duty and wilful absence are also charged by the plaintiff against the defendant.

Anna Naugle, through her counsel, Metzgar & McCarty, of Salem, has obtained a decree of divorce from her husband, David Samuel Naugle, and also custody of her three children. Her petition recited that Naugle is capable of making $6 per day working for the Mullens Body company, of Salem, while she had to make her living by working for the Salem China company. He was charged with gross neglect. The action was filed October 26, 1923.

PASTOR ATTENDS M. E. CONFERENCE

Rev. J. W. Schrader, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, is in Wilkinsburg, Pa., where he is attending the annual meeting of the Pittsburgh conference of Methodist Episcopal churches, which opened in the Pennsylvania city Tuesday afternoon.

The meetings will continue until next Monday when the appointment of ministers will be announced. Rev. Schrader will in all probability be returned to the local charge.

John A. Myler and Guy Shilling, lay delegates from the local congregation, probably will leave Friday for Wilkinsburg.

FAMOUS COLLEGE GRIDDER HERE

Newell was visited Tuesday by a football celebrity of no mean ability in the person of "Red" Weaver, who made Walter Camp's mythical all-American eleven several years ago.

Weaver played center with the "Praying Colonels" from Center college, Ky., coached by Charles Moran, and was a teammate of "Bo" McMillen, sensational all-American quarterback, and "Red" Roberts, all-American end.

He is at present engaged in selling school rings and pins for the Ault company.

POTTERY SOCCER TEAMS PROPOSED

The Newell plants of the Homer Laughlin China company will be represented by a soccer football team as well as rugby teams this fall, it was learned Tuesday.

A soccer team is to be selected from the employes of the Nos. 4, 5 and 6 plants, while each plant plans to have a rugby team of its town.

A soccer team is also being organized from the Nos. 1, 2 and plants in East End, East Liverpool, and a series will be arranged between the two teams.

Protests Freight Rates.

The Weirton Steel company is one of the West Virginia firms whose protests of rates of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company for short hauls resulted in an investigation by the West Virginia public service commission. Members of the commission are now hearing evidence in the case at Charleston.

Mid-Week Prayer Services.

Mid-week prayer services will be conducted in the First Methodist Episcopal church at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. In the absence of Rev. J. W. Schrader, church pastor, Clyde Railing will be in charge.

Clyde Smith Funeral.

Funeral services for Clyde Smith, 31 years old, of Grant street, who died in the East Liverpool hospital Monday night after a short illness, will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the late residence. Interment will be made in Riverview cemetery, East Liverpool.

Friends may view the body at the late home Wednesday evening.

PICKED TO BECOME COMMANDER AT NAVAL ACADEMY

Rear Admiral Guy H. Burrage, U. S. Navy, is slated for appointment as superintendent of the naval academy at Annapolis.

Aerial Railroads Predicted Soon By Great Flying "Ace"

WHEELING, W. Va.—Air "railways," within a comparatively few years, will vie with land transportation services and highways for patronage of the traveling public, it was predicted here by Captain "Eddie" Rickenbacker, ace of the American flyers in the World war.

Furthermore, the planes of the near future will be just as safe as the road mode of travel, he declared.

"The public as a whole doesn't appreciate the tremendous forward strides being made in aviation circles," Captain Rickenbacker said. "Ample proof of this is evidenced by the success of the American flyers who circled the globe, a feat that would have been scoffed at a few years ago."

Rickenbacker passed through Wheeling en route to Dayton to greet personally the intrepid American world flyers, each of whom he knows intimately.

Gridder Injured.

BUCYRUS, O.—Eddie Norton, 16, captain of the Bucyrus High School football team, broke his left leg in practice and will be out of the lineup the remainder of the season. Morris McMichael, a player on the second team, broke his collar bone.

Clothiers Say Men Must Dress Better; Slogan is Adopted

NEW YORK.—"Dress well and succeed" was the slogan adopted some months ago by the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers, and in its eleventh annual convention, recently held at the Grand Central Palace, the members told how the suggestion worked out.

"The way for you clothiers to create more sales is to create more needs or wants in dress," said Alfred S. Bryan, one of the speakers. "Waiting for a suit to wear out until you can sell the wearer another suit isn't working for yourself or your future. Persuade your customers not simply to buy clothes but to own enough of them to meet the obligation of every occasion."

The men's apparel field is vastly undersold, according to W. H. Weintraub, of Chicago, who said that last year for every hundred men in this country only sixty-two new suits of clothing, fifty-two new hats and eighteen pairs of gloves had been sold. "These figures are startling," he said.

"A market producing such returns indicates clearly how badly undersold the men of America are on personal appearance. It clearly indicates a negative public attitude. Paint people sell the idea of surface preservation, phonograph manufacturers the pleasure of the listener, automobile advertisers the pleasures and conveniences of the car. It has remained for the clothier simply to picture suits, woolens and price, instead of appearance and the pleasure of being well dressed."

A newly invented electric bulb that can be instantly attached to safety razors give light to shavers in camp or other places where other light is not to be had.

STYLE SHOW

Thursday - Friday - Saturday

A TANTALIZING glimpse of the new modes for fall, a lesson in the smart things that the women of East Liverpool and vicinity will wear, an hour or two of keen pleasure viewing our style assortments. The styles are more delightfully varied than usual—the colors richer—the materials in a greater variety—and most gratifying of all, the prices are the most reasonable in many seasons.

The New Coats
$8.50 to $95.00

Both furs and embroidery are used lavishly this fall. The most intriguing of trimmings are the "barrel" cuffs—usually fashioned of fur—also bands of colored embroidery.
The materials in big special assortments of those soft velvety fabrics with no luster, others of deep pile fabrics that are always so very popular and in great demand.

The Millinery
$1.95 to $18.50

Such wonderful assortments of Fall Millinery has never been your opportunity to view in a single store in this city, and as usual, you will find that our prices are lowest.
With the many social activities of Meadow Brook and Belmont Park you will find the styles a clever combination of sport and dress hats in most clever adaptations.

The New Frocks
$7.95 to $55.00

It's difficult to decide the season. The satins make such stunning frocks from the way they combine the dull and the shiny shades of the materials and their novel trimmings. And yet the ribbed silks, the flannels in plain color and plaids are in great demand—they all favor the more simple lines and most beautiful in new shades of brown.

During Style Show Days You Are Most Cordially Invited To View the New Styles, Try On a Few, Get Acquainted With What's What in Styles Most Popular for Fall.

Ka-di-ok Promptly Aids General Breakdown Victim to Regain Old Time Health Again.

MR. CHAS. VOGEL, Wheeling, W. Va.

Many people who take Ka-di-ok, the herbal health-builder, say they can notice an immediate improvement in their condition. Mr. Charles Vogel of 406 Coal street, Wheeling, W. Va., who had such an experience recently, called on the Ka-di-ck representative, and said:

"After 14 years of railroading I met with my first accident about a year ago. While in the hospital I went through four operations with the result that when I was discharged I was a nervous wreck and in a very weak condition. I had no desire to eat, but when I did take a little food I had bad attacks from indigestion. I was very much constipated and felt in a very bad way. I seemed as though this accident, which was the first I ever had, caused me to suffer from a general breakdown.

"I read about Ka-di-ok and started on my first bottle about a month ago. I am here to tell you that it helped me almost immediately. I am taking it right along, but today I feel like my natural self again. I am eating hearty; my nervous condition has improved a whole lot and I feel a hundred per cent all right and have not an ache or a pain about me."

Clothiers Say Men Must Dress Better; Slogan is Adopted

NEW YORK.—"Dress well and succeed" was the slogan adopted some months ago by the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers, and in its eleventh annual convention, recently held at the Grand Central Palace, the members told how the suggestion worked out.

"The way for you clothiers to create more sales is to create more needs or wants in dress," said Alfred S. Bryan, one of the speakers. "Waiting for a suit to wear out until you can sell the wearer another suit isn't working for yourself or your future. Persuade your customers not simply to buy clothes but to own enough of them to meet the obligation of every occasion."

The men's apparel field is vastly undersold, according to W. H. Weintraub, of Chicago, who said that last year for every hundred men in this country only sixty-two new suits of clothing, fifty-two new hats and eighteen pairs of gloves had been sold. "These figures are startling," he said.

"A market producing such returns indicates clearly how badly undersold the men of America are on personal appearance. It clearly indicates a negative public attitude. Paint people sell the idea of surface preservation, phonograph manufacturers the pleasure of the listener, automobile advertisers the pleasures and conveniences of the car. It has remained for the clothier simply to picture suits, woolens and price, instead of appearance and the pleasure of being well dressed."

STYLE SHOW

Thursday - Friday - Saturday

A TANTALIZING glimpse of the new modes for fall, a lesson in the smart things that the women of East Liverpool and vicinity will wear, an hour or two of keen pleasure viewing our style assortments. The styles are more delightfully varied than usual—the colors richer—the materials in a greater variety—and most gratifying of all, the prices are the most reasonable in many seasons.

The New Coats $8.50 to $95.00

Both furs and embroidery are used lavishly this fall. The most intriguing of trimmings are the "barrel" cuffs—usually fashioned of fur—also bands of colored embroidery.

The materials in big special assortments of those soft velvety fabrics with no luster, others of deep pile fabbrics that are always so very popular and in great demand.

The Millinery $1.95 to $18.50

Such wonderful assortments of Fall Millinery has never been your opportunity to view in a single store in this city, and as usual, you will find that our prices are lowest.

With the many social activities of Meadow Brook and Belmont Park you will find the styles a clever combination of sport and dress hats in most clever adaptations.

The New Frocks $7.95 to $55.00

It's difficult to decide the season. The satins make such stunning frocks from the way they combine the dull and the shiny shades of the materials and their novel trimmings. And yet the ribbed silks, the flannels in plain color and plaids are in great demand—they all favor the more simple lines and most beautiful in new shades of brown.

During Style Show Days You Are Most Cordially Invited To View the New Styles, Try On a Few, Get Acquainted With What's What in Styles Most Popular for Fall.

In such a mood there appeared to Bud Lee a vision. Nothing less. He was in the little meadow hidden from the ranch house by gentle hills still green with young June. He had been working Lovelady, a newly broken saddle mare. Standing with his back to a tree, a cigarette in the making in his hands, his black hat far back upon his head, he similingly watched Lovelady as with regained freedom she galloped back across the meadow to her herd. Then a shadow on the grass drew Lee's eyes swiftly away from the mare and to the vision.

Over the verdant flooring of the meadow, stepping dainty in and out among the big golden buttercups, came one who might well have been that lady of his dreams. A milk-white hand held up a pale-pink skirt, disclosing the lacy flounce of a fine underskirt, pale-pink stockings and mincing little slippers; a pink parasol cast the most delicate of tints upon a pretty face from which big blue eyes looked out a little timorously upon the tall horse foreman.

He knew that this was Marcia Langworthy. He had never known until now just how pretty she was, how like a flower.

Marcia paused, seemed to hesitate, dodged suddenly as a noisy bumblebee sailed down the air. Then the bee buzzed on and Marcia smiled. Still stepping daintily she came on until, with her parasol twirling over her shoulder, she stood in the shade with Lee.

"You're Mr. Lee, aren't you?" asked Marcia. She was still smiling and looked cool and fresh and very alluring.

Lee dropped the makings of his cigarette, ground the paper into the sod with his heel and removed his hat with a gallantry little short of reverence.

"Yes," he answered, his gravity touched with the hint of a responsive smile. "Is there something I can do for you, Miss Langworthy?"

"Oh," cried Marcia. "So you know who I am? Yet I have never seen you, I think."

"The star doesn't always see the moth, you know," offered Lee, a little intoxicated by the first "vision" of this kind he had seen in many years.

"Oh!" cried Marcia again, and then stopped, looking at him, frankly puzzled. She knew little first-hand of horse foremen. But she had seen Carson, even talked with him. And she had seen other workmen. She would, until now, have summed them all up as illiterate, awkward and impossibly backward and shy. A second long, curious glance at Lee failed to show that he was embarrassed, though in truth he had had time to be a bit ashamed of that moth-and-star observation of his. Instead, he appeared quite self-possessed. And he was good-looking. And he didn't seem illiterate; quite the contrary, Marcia thought. In an instant she catalogued this tall, dark, calm-eyed man as interesting.

She twirled her parasol at him and laughed softly. A strand of blond hair that was very becoming where it was, against her delicate cheek, she tucked back where it evidently belonged, since there it looked even more becoming.

"Mr. Hampton isn't here, is he?" she asked.

"No. Come to think of it, he did say this morning that he would be out right after lunch to help me break Lovelady. But I haven't seen him."

"He wanted me to stroll out here with him," Marcia explained. "And I wouldn't. It was too hot. Didn't you find it terribly hot about an hour ago, Mr. Lee?"

As a matter of fact Bud Lee had been altogether too busy an hour ago with the capers of Lovelady to note whether it was hot or cold. But he courteously agreed with Miss Langworthy.

"Then," she ran on brightly, "it got cool all of a sudden. Or at least I did. And I thought that Polly had come out here, so I walked out to surprise him. And now, he isn't here!"

Marcia looked up at Lee helplessly, smilingly, fascinatingly. It was quite as though she had added: "Oh, dear! What shall I do?"

Pollock Hampton had fully meant to come. But by now he had forgotten all about Bud Lee and horses to ride and to be bucked off by. A telegram had come from a nasty little tailor in San Francisco who had discovered Hampton's retreat and who was devilishly insistent upon a small matter—oh, some suits and things, you know. The whole thing totaled scarcely seven hundred dollars. He went to find Judith, to beg an advance against his wages or allowance or dividends or whatever you call it. Judith was out somewhere at the Lower End, Mrs. Simpson thought. Hampton saddled his own horse and went to find her. All this Marcia was to learn that evening.

After the swift passing of a few bright minutes, Marcia and Bud Lee strolled together across the meadow to the spring. Marcia, it seemed, was interested in everything. Lee told her much of the ways of horses, of breaking them, of a score of little ranch matters, not without their color. Marcia noted that he spoke rather slowly, and guessed that he was choosing his words with particular care.

She was delighted when they came to the bank under the willows where a pipe sent forth a clear, cold sheam of water from a shady recess in the hillside. Here, at Lee's solicitous suggestion, she rested after her long walk—it was nearly a half-mile to the ranch house—disposing her skirts fluffily about her, taking her seat upon a convenient log from which, with his hat, Lee had swept the loose dust.

"I'm dreadfully improper, am I not?" said Marcia. "But I am tired, and it is hot, isn't it? Out there in the field, I mean. Here it's just lovely. And I do so love to hear about all the things you know which are so wonderful to me. Isn't life narrow in the cities? Don't you think so, Mr. Lee?"

The breeze playing gently with the ribbons of her sunshade brought to him the faintest of violet perfumes. He lay at her feet, obeying her tardy command to have the smoke which she had interrupted. His eyes were full of her.

"I'd so love," went on Marcia dreamily, "to live always out-of-doors. Out here I fell so sorry for the people I know in town. Here women must grow up so sweet and pure and innocent; men must be so fine and manly and strong!"

NATS WILL MEASURE UP TO GIANTS DESPITE FIGURES

Man For Man Comparison Gives Senators At Least Even Break In Strength

Statistics, at Best, Avers Critic, Mean but Little; the Answer, Apparently, is That Pitching and the Breaks Will Decide Winner of Next World's Series.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Figures don't lie, says the man who needs a pat phrase in order to prove an argument. Perhaps they don't but sometimes they are guilty of false representation.

Juggling with a sour statistic or so leads to the assumption that the New York Giants are immeasurably superior to the Washington Senators on attack. The writer is pleased to doubt it, in spite of the figures.

These show that the Giants, mustering a lineup of their most enthusiastic moments, have a team batting average of .314, exclusive of pitchers. A corresponding number of Senators have hit for .299. They would seem to run a very bad second. They do not.

Take the rival second basemen, Frisch and Harris, for example. The Giant star hit .308 during the National league season against Harris' .272 in the American league, yet it is extremely doubtful whether Frisch will drive in more runs than Harris when the teams meet. The Washington leader is one of the best men in a pinch now playing baseball.

Move over to shortstop and you have Jackson of the Giants hitting .301 against Peckinpaugh's .269, but Peck is just as dangerous with men ready to score. And it is my impression that you win ball games with runs.

In the matter of base running, this quartet is a standoff, more or less, but the same doesn't apply at first base. Whether Judge plays against Kelly or Terry, he will be the more effective man on the bases. In hitting, he has an average of .322 against Kelly's .326 and Terry's .246. Obviously, Judge is a superior offensive bet over the McGraw combination.

At third base, Groh outhit Bluege during the regular season, .281 to .274, not enough to make the difference important. However, Heine is a money player and probably will do the more effective nitting if he plays at all. If he doesn't, Bluege, will have the edge on Lindstorm, the Giant understudy.

In the Washington outfield, Leibold hit .299, Goslin .343 and Rice .333, which is nothing to look down your nose at. It more than holds its own, with the Giant record to wit: Wilson, .288, Meusel .309 and Young .358. Granting that McGraw will not play Kelly in center field in more than half of the games. As a base running combination furthermore, the Giant outfield doesn't compare with the Senators.

Behind the bat, Ruel of the Senators hit .282 against the .326 of Gowdy, who probably will do most of McGraw's catching. But Ruel is much the faster man and again we have the old danger signal in the pinch. Ruel is just as good a man as Gowdy when a hit means runs.

So much for the downright veracity of figures. They are not altogether illuminating, in any case, because it is possible that one club or the other faced easier pitching during the regular season.

They also fail to show that, in spite of their impressive records, the Giants were not hitting as a unit during the late weeks of the season. Frisch, Gowdy, Young and Kelly were the only members of the outfit who hit up their records right to the wire.

For example, Meusel's record for the season is .309. Yet he was benched because of indifferent hitting. Again, Snyder has an average of .305 but failed to catch more than twice during the last two weeks, because he wasn't hitting the size of his neck band. Wilson, a hittting fool in midseason, has seen his average Shrink to .286. It might have evaporated altogether if he hadn't a plentiful margin to work on.

Britain has 1,000,000 unemployed.

1922—McGraw—New York Nationals beat New York Americans, 4 games in five game series. One game a tie.

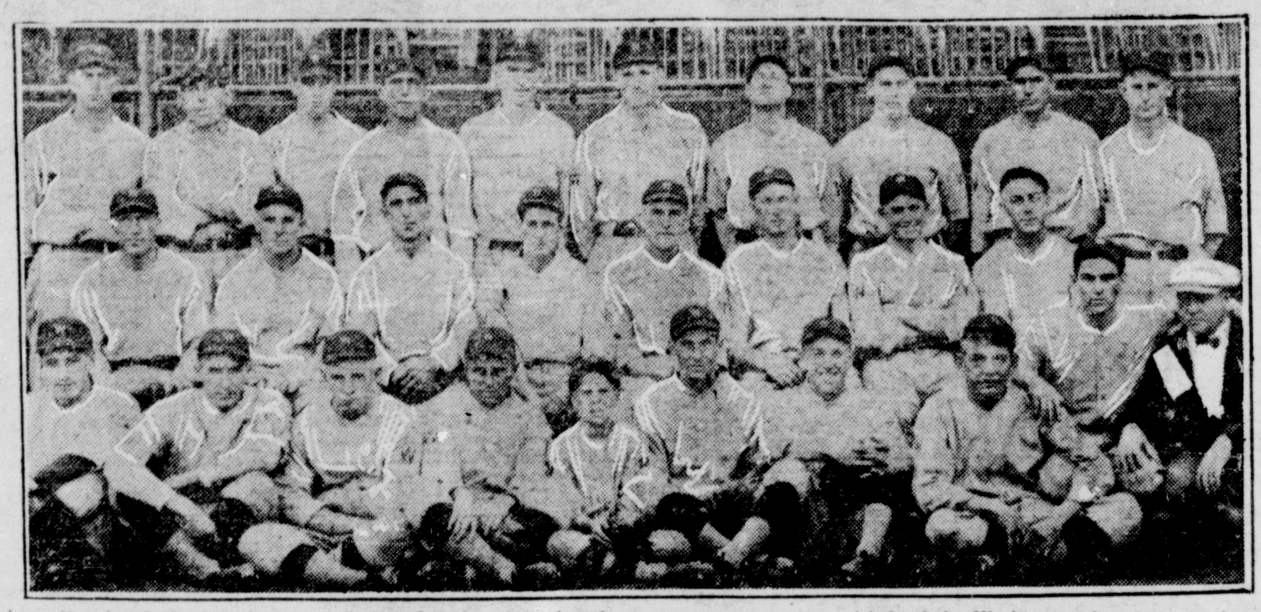

1923—Huggins—New York Americans, beat New York Nationals, 4 games to 2.

FOHL'S TOSSERS LAND SEVENTH

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—Boston finished in seventh place Tuesday by beating the pennant winning Washington Senators, 13 to 1, in a game which showed that the latter harbored no grudge against Boston for having delayed the finish by taking the first of the final series here.

Nick Altrock, Washington's clown coach, delighted the fans by holding the home team to one run while he had possession of the mound for the final two innings, and then he capped the day by scoring the lone Washington run after hitting a "remarkable" three-bagger.

THE FAVORITE TEAM OF AMERICAN FANDOM

SPEARS LOSES STAR TACKLE

Howard Breaks Leg in Wesleyan Contest.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 1.—West Virginia's cup of joy is empty. Instead of shouting over the 21-6 victory at the expenes of West Virginia Wesleyan college in the opening game Mountaineer fans are mourning the loss of Charley Howard, veteran tackle, who sustained a broken lee early in the battle with the Methodists and who will not be in the lineup again this season.

Howard's loss further weakens an already depleted squad. Through preseason adversities West Virginia coaches worried over all posts except right tackle. Howard reported in the best of condition and was one of the few to weather tough scrimmage sessions. With Howard in the fold Dr. Spears gave right tackle little thought as the Wheeling boy had been playing regularly at the post since are opening of the 1923 season.

The gap will be filled before West Virginia meets Allegheny college in the new Stadium here this Saturday afternoon, but there are no other Howards on the 1924 squad. To plug the hole Dr. Spears will shift Mahan from guard, McHenry from center or groom Rangeley. Any change will be risky and the calling of reserves from another sector just as hazardous.

Dr. Spears is truly "up against it" and though he has 45 men on his squad avowed tackle candidates are scarce.

The Wesleyan victory was costly since Howard is the price that the Mountaineers had to pay. All things considered, however, the outlook is not as dark as it was a week before the Methodist battle. Farley, Julian Murrin and Ed. Morrison, freshman backs a year ago, and several others "came through" and now that Captain Graham is getting into first class condition the West Virginia machine may be working smoothly by Saturday afternoon and the Davies-coached Allegheny eleven will be tendered a warm reception. Most of the Mountaineers are "fighting mad" and in future games will neither ask nor give favors.

STOOPS' SQUAD SHOWS STRENGTH

WEST LIBERTY, W. Va., Oct. 1.—The West Liberty Normal football team made a fine showing against California Normal despite the fact that a 14 to 6 loss was sustained. The game was evenly contested throughout with California having a slight margin during the first half, while the West Virginians outplayed the Pennsylvania team in the last half. With the score 7 to 6 with but two minutes to play West Liberty attempted a forward pass which would have netted a touchdown had it gone through, but the slippery ball made the pass inaccurate and California intercepted it and ran for a touchdown. California has an exceptionally strong team, with 55 candidates out for the eleven, 14 of whom are former high school captains. California has lost only two of its last 20 football games and West Liberty was the first team to score on California's home grounds for several years.

The experience gained in the California game will be invaluable to the West Liberty team. Defects in play and generalship which always show in the first game will be corrected and the team which Coach Stoops will send against the Bethany Freshmen Friday, October 3, at West Liberty should be much further advanced than the eleven which met California last Friday. Several changes in the lineup will be made and the makeup of the team that faces Bethany will not be identical with that which started the California game.

OTTERBEIN IS NEXT FOR BOLES

Wooster Team Ready for First Conference Game.

WOOSTER, O., Oct. 1.—The Wooster college football team will play the first conference game of the 1924 season here next Saturday with the strong Otterbein team as opposition. Coach Boles was far from satisfied with the showing against the Ashland college eleven when Wooster turned in a 17 to 0 victory last week-end.

The varsity had its first scrimmage with the yearlings this week. Coach Mose Hole has several promising line candidates on his eleven and the Frosh will give the varsity plenty of opposition.

Wooster's new $45,000 football bleachers are now ready for use. Dedication day will be held on October 11. The Akron University team will battle with the Boles men that afternoon. A record crowd for a game at Wooster is expected. Reports from Akron indicate that a large crowd of fans will follow the Akron team here.

Dr. Charles F. Wishart, president of Wooster college, will personally conduct the dedication exercises.

EVEN MONEY ON WORLD'S SERIES

"Take Your Pick" Slogan of New York Bet Makers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Even money and take your pick was the slogan today of local bet makers on the world series between the Washington Senators and the New York Giants. In many cases, wagers were held up while backers of both teams waited for the short end of a 6 to 5 price.

The largest bet made in the last 24 hours was reported by Jack Doyle, the sage of Broadway, who declared he was holding the stakes of a wager of $5,000 against $5,500 with the Senators favored. In addition, G. B. De Chandenedos & Co. announced that it is holding $20,000 to bet on the Senators at even money, and $10,000 to get against $14,000 that the Giants will win the opening game.

NATS WILL MEASURE UP TO GIANTS DESPITE FIGURES

Man For Man Comparison Gives Senators At Least Even Break In Strength

Statistics, at Best, Avers Critic, Mean but Little; the Answer, Apparently, is That Pitching and the Breaks Will Decide Winner of Next World's Series.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Figures don't lie, says the man who needs a pat phrase in order to prove an argument. Perhaps they don't but sometimes they are guilty of false representation.

Juggling with a sour statistic or so leads to the assumption that the New York Giants are immeasurably superior to the Washington Senators on attack. The writer is pleased to doubt it, in spite of the figures.

These show that the Giants, mustering a lineup of their most enthusiastic moments, have a team batting average of .314, exclusive of pitchers. A corresponding number of Senators have hit for .299. They would seem to run a very bad second. They do not.

Take the rival second basemen, Frisch and Harris, for example. The Giant star hit .308 during the National league season against Harris' .272 in the American league, yet it is extremely doubtful whether Frisch will drive in more runs than Harris when the teams meet. The Washington leader is one of the best men in a pinch now playing baseball.

Move over to shortstop and you have Jackson of the Giants hitting .301 against Peckinpaugh's .269, but Peck is just as dangerous with men ready to score. And it is my impression that you win ball games with runs.

In the matter of base running, this quartet is a standoff, more or less, but the same doesn't apply at first base. Whether Judge plays against Kelly or Terry, he will be the more effective man on the bases. In hitting, he has an average of .322 against Kelly's .326 and Terry's .246. Obviously, Judge is a superior offensive bet over the McGraw combination.

At third base, Groh outhit Bluege during the regular season, .281 to .274, not enough to make the difference important. However, Heine is a money player and probably will do the more effective nitting if he plays at all. If he doesn't, Bluege, will have the edge on Lindstorm, the Giant undestudy.

In the Washington outfield, Leibold hit .299, Goslin .343 and Rice .333, which is nothing to look down your nose at. It more than holds its own, with the Giant record to wit: Wilson, .288, Meusel .309 and Young .358. Granting that McGraw will not play Kelly in center field in more than half of the games. As a base running combination furthermore, the Giant outfield doesn't compare with the Senators.

Behind the bat, Ruel of the Senators hit .282 against the .326 of Gowdy, who probably will do most of McGraw's catching. But Ruel is much the faster man and again we have the old danger signal in the pinch. Ruel is just as good a man as Gowdy when a hit means runs.

So much for the downright veracity of figures. They are not altogether illuminating, in any case, because it is possible that one club or the other faced easier pitching during the regular season.

They also fail to show that, in spite of their impressive records, the Giants were not hitting as a unit during the late weeks of the season. Frisch, Gowdy, Young and Kelly were the only members of the outfit who hit up their records right to the wire.

For example, Meusel's record for the season is .309. Yet he was benched because of indifferent hitting. Again, Snyder has an average of .305 but failed to catch more than twice during the last two weeks, because he wasn't hitting the size of his neck band. Wilson, a hittting fool in midseason, has seen his average Shrink to .286. It might have evaporated altogether if he hadn't a plentiful margin to work on.

Britain has 1,000,000 unemployed.

FOHL'S TOSSERS LAND SEVENTH

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—Boston finished in seventh place Tuesday by beating the pennant winning Washington Senators, 13 to 1, in a game which showed that the latter harbored no grudge against Boston for having delayed the finish by taking the first of the final series here.

Nick Altrock, Washington's clown coach, delighted the fans by holding the home team to one run while he had possession of the mound for the final two innings, and then he capped the day by scoring the lone Washington run after hitting a "remarkable" three-bagger.

SPEARS LOSES STAR TACKLE

Howard Breaks Leg in Wesleyan Contest.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 1.—West Virginia's cup of joy is empty. Instead of shouting over the 21-6 victory at the expenes of West Virginia Wesleyan college in the opening game Mountaineer fans are mourning the loss of Charley Howard, veteran tackle, who sustained a broken lee early in the battle with the Methodists and who will not be in the lineup again this season.

Howard's loss further weakens an already depleted squad. Through preseason adversities West Virginia coaches worried over all posts except right tackle. Howard reported in the best of condition and was one of the few to weather tough scrimmage sessions. With Howard in the fold Dr. Spears gave right tackle little thought as the Wheeling boy had been playing regularly at the post since are opening of the 1923 season.

The gap will be filled before West Virginia meets Allegheny college in the new Stadium here this Saturday afternoon, but there are no other Howards on the 1924 squad. To plug the hole Dr. Spears will shift Mahan from guard, McHenry from center or groom Rangeley. Any change will be risky and the calling of reserves from another sector just as hazardous.

Dr. Spears is truly "up against it" and though he has 45 men on his squad avowed tackle candidates are scarce.

The Wesleyan victory was costly since Howard is the price that the Mountaineers had to pay. All things considered, however, the outlook is not as dark as it was a week before the Methodist battle. Farley, Julian Murrin and Ed. Morrison, freshman backs a year ago, and several others "came through" and now that Captain Graham is getting into first class condition the West Virginia machine may be working smoothly by Saturday afternoon and the Davies-coached Allegheny eleven will be tendered a warm reception. Most of the Mountaineers are "fighting mad" and in future games will neither ask nor give favors.

STOOPS' SQUAD SHOWS STRENGTH

WEST LIBERTY, W. Va., Oct. 1.—The West Liberty Normal football team made a fine showing against California Normal despite the fact that a 14 to 6 loss was sustained. The game was evenly contested throughout with California having a slight margin during the first half, while the West Virginians outplayed the Pennsylvania team in the last half. With the score 7 to 6 with but two minutes to play West Liberty attempted a forward pass which would have netted a touchdown had it gone through, but the slippery ball made the pass inaccurate and California intercepted it and ran for a touchdown. California has an exceptionally strong team, with 55 candidates out for the eleven, 14 of whom are former high school captains. California has lost only two of its last 20 football games and West Liberty was the first team to score on California's home grounds for several years.

The experience gained in the California game will be invaluable to the West Liberty team. Defects in play and generalship which always show in the first game will be corrected and the team which Coach Stoops will send against the Bethany Freshmen Friday, October 3, at West Liberty should be much further advanced than the eleven which met California last Friday. Several changes in the lineup will be made and the makeup of the team that faces Bethany will not be identical with that which started the California game.

As a remedy for bad colds nothing beats good ventilation.

Wooster Team Ready for First Conference Game.

WOOSTER, O., Oct. 1.—The Wooster college football team will play the first conference game of the 1924 season here next Saturday with the strong Otterbein team as opposition. Coach Boles was far from satisfied with the showing against the Ashland college eleven when Wooster turned in a 17 to 0 victory last week-end.

The varsity had its first scrimmage with the yearlings this week. Coach Mose Hole has several promising line candidates on his eleven and the Frosh will give the varsity plenty of opposition.

Wooster's new $45,000 football bleachers are now ready for use. Dedication day will be held on October 11. The Akron University team will battle with the Boles men that afternoon. A record crowd for a game at Wooster is expected. Reports from Akron indicate that a large crowd of fans will follow the Akron team here.

Dr. Charles F. Wishart, president of Wooster college, will personally conduct the dedication exercises.

OPEN PROGRAM WITH GRID TILT

Fall and Winter Card Planned by Laughlin Plant.

Fall and winter sport activities of the Homer Laughlin China company will get under way on next Saturday afternoon at Newell when the Laughlin football squad will clash with the E. M. Knowles eleven in a benefit performance for William Bossen of E. M. Knowles.

The contest is scheduled for 3 o'clock. Large delegations of rooters from both plants are expected out.

Neither the Laughlin nor the Knowles plant, up until the present time, have attempted football, Saturday's tilt being their inaugural effort along this line.

William Waters is busy today selecting an all-star squad from among the eligibles at the Laughlin plant, while Louis Reese, leader of the Knowles outfit, is certain he will be able to bring out a first class eleven.

According to officials of the Laughlin welfare department, the organization will be represented this fall and winter with football soccer, basketball and volley ball teams.

Plants No. 4, 5 and 6 will contribute to the gridiron program. The East End plant and the Newell plant will enter soccer teams in valley competition.

There will be at least two and perhaps three basketball squads organized among shop athletes at Newell, while plants No. 5 and 6 will be represented by volleyball contenders.

The program is quite pretentious and should be a factor in keeping sports alive in the district. As such it is deserving of support.

The fellow who hasn't missed a series in twenty years, and will regale the other spectators with reminiscences of other championship games. He will be quietly but effectively cholorformed and dropped over the fence at a propitious moment.

The statistician who will arrive with a dozen pencils and a bushel of scorecards, and will spend his time figuring feverishly. The day will be ruined for him when a complicated play occurs.

The tightwad who got in the park on a pass from the political leader of the fifth ward. He will tell you how he hangs out with the managers at the hotel in the evening, and calls all the players by their first names.

ALTROCK TURNS IN PERFECT RECORD

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Two marks of widely dissimilar character were compiled on the final day of the American league season, local statisticians discovered today. The first of these was made by Everett Scott, shortstop of the defeated Yankees, who completed eight and a fraction seasons of baseball in the major leagues without missing a game, taking part in 1,290 consecutive games in all.

The second mark was made by Nick Altrock. He topped all American league batters with a perfect record, having made a single hit, a triple, in his only appearance of the season in Boston yesterday.

Aged Southern Man Goes to Poor House On Flip of Coin

ROME, Ga.—Gus Stockmayer, who has eighty-six years of wrinkles on his tried-looking face, wouldn't make up his mind to go to the poorhouse, so he let a coin do it.

A Salvation Army worker pleaded with Stockmayer that the "home" was the place to rest his weary bones during the final period of his life.

"I won't say 'Yes'," the aged man declared.

Then came a pause at the Salvation Army worker tried to think of some means of persuasion that would prove effective.

"Got a coin?" the old man suddenly asked. "Pitch it up."

With a tinkle it tell to the floor.

"What is it? Stockmayer asked with a gasp.

"Heads," replied the Salvation Army man.

"Thank God! I'll go," the old man mumbled and went to his new home.

After his arrival there he declined to sleep on his bed, saying he has not slept indoors for fifty years. Each night he sleeps on the grass just off the window of his little room.

Zev Will Retire.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Zev, the three-year-old champion thoroughbred of 1923 and the biggest money winner in the history of the turf, will be retired to stud, according to reports in circulation today.

The Sinclair horse capped a disappointing season by running poorly in the international tests against Epinard, the French champion.

EXPECT FRISCH TO START SERIES

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Optimistic reports came from the headquarters of the New York Giants on the question of whether Frank Frisch, second baseman and captain, would be able to play in the first game of the world series at Washington on Saturday.

"Frisch's finger is coming along nicely and I would be very much surprised if he failed to show in the lineup for the opening game," one official said.

The condition of Heine Groh, third baseman, who was laid low with an injured knee, was not so satisfactory, however, and it was understood that the Giants were planning to take the field with Fred Lindstrom as his understudy.

O. V. BOONE WILL COACH GREYS

Two Practice Sessions Carded Each Week.

Coach O. V. Boone, of the East Liverpool high school squad, will take charge of the East Liverpool Greys' eleven, according to announcement by Manager George Cochran.

Boone will coach the squad during the remainder of the season. He will put the candidates through their paces on Thursday evening at city park, beginning at 6 o'clock. Regular practice sessions will be held hereafter on Tuesday and Thursday nights. Players desiring trials have been asked to attend the workouts.

Would Curtail Track Sport.

OTTAWA, Ontario, Oct. 1. — Foes of racing in the Dominion were working today for a curtailment of turf activities during the next season. Efforts to reduce the number of tracks in action and the length of the racing programs at these tracks, were reported under way.

American owners of thoroughbreds have played a large part in Canadian track activities.

SECTION 3. That the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles of said proposed improvement heretofore prepared by the City Engineer and now on file in the Office of the Director of Public Service, where the same are open for public inspection, be and the same are hereby approved.

SECTION 4. That the whole cost of said improvement less one-fiftieth (1-50) thereof and the cost of intersections shall be assessed by the foot front upon the following described lots and lands towit: All lots and lands bounding and abutting upon the proposed improvement, which said lots and lands are hereby determined to be specially benefited by said improvement; and in the amount to be levied and assessed pursuant hereto; and the cost of said improvement shall include the expense of the preliminary and other surveys, and of printing and publishing the notices, resolutions and ordinances required, and the serving of said notices, the cost of construction, together with interest on notes and bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred assessments, and all other necessary expenditures.

SECTION 5. That the assessments so to be levied shall be paid in five (5) annual installments, with interest on deferred payments, at the same rate as shall be borne by the bonds to be issued in anticipation of the collection thereof; said rate not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum; provided that the owner of any property assessed may, at his option, pay such assessment in cash within thirty (30) days after the passage of the assessing ordinance.

SECTION 6. That notes of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, shall be issued in anticipation of the levy of special assessments or of the issuance of bonds or both; and bonds of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, shall be issued in anticipation of the collection of special assessments by installments, and in an amount equal thereto.

SECTION 7. That the remainder of the entire cost of said improvement not specially assessed, shall be paid by the issuance of bonds, in the manner provided by law.

SECTION 8. That said improvement is hereby declared to be conducive to and necessary for the public health, convenience and welfare.

SECTION 9. That this resolution shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

OPEN PROGRAM WITH GRID TILT

Fall and Winter Card Planned by Laughlin Plant.

Fall and winter sport activities of the Homer Laughlin China company will get under way on next Saturday afternoon at Newell when the Laughlin football squad will clash with the E. M. Knowles eleven in a benefit performance for William Bossen of E. M. Knowles.

The contest is scheduled for 3 o'clock. Large delegations of rooters from both plants are expected out.

Neither the Laughlin nor the Knowles plant, up until the present time, have attempted football, Saturday's tilt being their inaugural effort along this line.

William Waters is busy today selecting an all-star squad from among the eligibles at the Laughlin plant, while Louis Reese, leader of the Knowles outfit, is certain he will be able to bring out a first class eleven.

According to officials of the Laughlin welfare department, the organization will be represented this fall and winter with football soccer, basketball and volley ball teams.

Plants No. 4, 5 and 6 will contribute to the gridiron program. The East End plant and the Newell plant will enter soccer teams in valley competition.

There will be at least two and perhaps three basketball squads organized among shop athletes at Newell, while plants No. 5 and 6 will be represented by volleyball contenders.

The program is quite pretentious and should be a factor in keeping sports alive in the district. As such it is deserving of support.

SPORT SPARKS

People You Will Meet At the World's Series.

The publicity hound who camps outside the park all night on a folding bed in order to be written up on the first page as the "early bird."

The henpecked chap from Tulsa, Oklanoma, who couldn't take in the series unless he brought his spouse along. He will be forced to spend three-quarters of the time explaining the game to the Mrs., and will have his attention distracted from the diamond when the best play of the series occurs.

The fellow who hasn't missed a series in twenty years, and will regale the other spectators with reminiscences of other championship games. He will be quietly but effectively cholorformed and dropped over the fence at a propitious moment.

The statistician who will arrive with a dozen pencils and a bushel of scorecards, and will spend his time figuring feverishly. The day will be ruined for him when a complicated play occurs.

The tightwad who got in the park on a pass from the political leader of the fifth ward. He will tell you how he hangs out with the managers at the hotel in the evening, and calls all the players by their first names.

The reporter for the Bungville, Mo., Bladder. He will stand up from time to time to get a better view of the proceedings, and will be accidentally struck by a pop bottle thrown by a fan seated directly behind him.

ALTROCK TURNS IN PERFECT RECORD

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Two marks of widely dissimilar character were compiled on the final day of the American league season, local statisticians discovered today. The first of these was made by Everett Scott, shortstop of the defeated Yankees, who completed eight and a fraction seasons of baseball in the major leagues without missing a game, taking part in 1,290 consecutive games in all.

The second mark was made by Nick Altrock. He topped all American league batters with a perfect record, having made a single hit, a triple, in his only appearance of the season in Boston yesteray.

Aged Southern Man Goes to Poor House On Flip of Coin

ROME, Ga.—Gus Stockmayer, who has eighty-six years of wrinkles on his tried-looking face, wouldn't make up his mind to go to the poorhouse, so he let a coin do it.

A Salvation Army worker pleaded with Stockmayer that the "home" was the place to rest his weary bones during the final period of his life.

"I won't say 'Yes'," the aged man declared.

Then came a pause at the Salvation Army worker tried to think of some means of persuasion that would prove effective.

"Got a coin?" the old man suddenly asked. "Pitch it up."

With a tinkle it tell to the floor.

"What is it? Stockmayer asked with a gasp.

"Heads," replied the Salvation Army man.

"Thank God! I'll go," the old man mumbled and went to his new home.

After his arrival there he declined to sleep on his bed, saying he has not slept indoors for fifty years. Each night he sleeps on the grass just off the window of his little room.

Zev Will Retire.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1. — Zev, the three-year-old champion thoroughbred of 1923 and the biggest money winner in the history of the turf, will be retired to stud, according to reports in circulation today.

The Sinclair horse capped a disappointing season by running poorly in the international tests against Epinard, the French champion.

EXPECT FRISCH TO START SERIES

NEW YORK, Oct. 1. — Optimistic reports came from the headquarters of the New York Giants on the question of whether Frank Frisch, second baseman and captain, would be able to play in the first game of the world series at Washington on Saturday.

"Frisch's finger is coming along nicely and I would be very much surprised if he failed to show in the lineup for the opening game," one official said.

The condition of Heine Groh, third baseman, who was laid low with an injured knee, was not so satisfactory, however, and it was understood that the Giants were planning to take the field with Fred Lindstrom as his understudy.

O. V. BOONE WILL COACH GREYS

Two Practice Sessions Carded Each Week.

Coach O. V. Boone, of the East Liverpool high school squad, will take charge of the East Liverpool Greys' eleven, according to announcement by Manager George Cochran.

Boone will coach the squad during the remainder of the season. He will put the candidates through their paces on Thursday evening at city park, beginning at 6 o'clock. Regular practice sessions will be held hereafter on Tuesday and Thursday nights. Players desiring trials have been asked to attend the workouts.

Would Curtail Track Sport.

OTTAWA, Ontario, Oct. 1. — Foes of racing in the Dominion were working today for a curtailment of turf activities during the next season. Efforts to reduce the number of tracks in action and the length of the racing programs at these tracks, were reported under way.

American owners of thoroughbreds have played a large part in Canadian track activities.

SECTION 3. That the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles of said proposed improvement heretofore prepared by the City Engineer and now on file in the Office of the Director of Public Service, where the same are open for public inspection, be and the same are hereby approved.

SECTION 4. That the whole cost of said improvement less one-fiftieth (1-50) thereof and the cost of intersections shall be assessed by the foot front upon the following described lots and lands towit: All lots and lands bounding and abutting upon the proposed improvement, which said lots and lands are hereby determined to be specially benefited by said improvement; and in the amount to be levied and assessed pursuant hereto; and the cost of said improvement shall include the expense of the preliminary and other surveys, and of printing and publishing the notices, resolutions and ordinances required, and the serving of said notices, the cost of construction, together with interest on notes and bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred assessments, and all other necessary expenditures.

SECTION 5. That the assessments so to be levied shall be paid in five (5) annual installments, with interest on deferred payments, at the same rate as shall be borne by the bonds to be issued in anticipation of the collection thereof; said rate not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum; provided that the owner of any property assessed may, at his option, pay such assessment in cash within thirty (30) days after the passage of the assessing ordinance.

SECTION 6. That notes of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, shall be issued in anticipation of the levy of special assessments or of the issuance of bonds or both; and bonds of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, shall be issued in anticipation of the collection of special assessments by installments, and in an amount equal thereto.

SECTION 7. That the remainder of the entire cost of said improvement not specially assessed, shall be paid by the issuance of bonds, in the manner provided by law.

SECTION 8. That said improvement is hereby declared to be conducive to and necessary for the public health, convenience and welfare.

SECTION 9. That this resolution shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

EAST END

CLASS OF 100 ENTERS P. H. C.

Supreme President is Honor Guest at Meeting Here.

One of the largest Protected Home Circle affairs ever conducted in East End was held Tuesday evening in the rooms of Eureka Circle No. 86, in the Hill building, Mulberry street.

Delegations from practically every lodge in the upper Ohio valley were in attendance and S. H. Hadley of Sharon, Pa., supreme president of the order, was a guest of honor as was George Wilhelm, past grand president of the Ohio lodge.

A class of about 100 candidates was initiated by the Ohio Valley degree team.

Prior to the meeting a parade was conducted over the down town and East End streets. A social hour, during which refreshments were served, concluded the meeting.

Preparatory Services.

Services preparatory to communion, which will be administered in the Second Presbyterian church Sunday, will be conducted in the church at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. Rev. A. H. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church, will deliver the sermon at the preparatory meeting and Rev. F. A. Dean, church pastor, will have charge of the communion services.

Mrs. J. T. Jackson To Entertain.

Mrs. Joseph T. Jackson will be hostess to members of Class No. 14 of the Sunday school of the Second Presbyterian church at her home in 158 Pennsylvania avenue Friday night.

Church Trustees Meet.

Routine business was transacted at the monthly meeting of the trustees of the Second Presbyterian church held Tuesday evening in the church parlors in Virginia avenue.

Saving Accounts
